Ike Puts Big Program Up To Congress

Urges Reconvening Solons To Act In Score Of Fields

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower today fired a volley of legislative proposals—including civil rights—at the reconvening Democratic Congress. He urged that "we stay on the job until it is done."

Eisenhower, in a special message read to the Senate just after it reconvened at noon, said action was "urgently needed" in more than a score of legislative fields.

Along with civil rights, Eisenhower gave top priority to medical care for the aged, farm legislation, school construction aid, a higher minimum wage and restoration of funds slashed from the foreign aid money bill.

Ike Declares U.S. Might '2nd To None'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, in a staunch defense of his military policy, declared today he has increased U.S. readiness on the land, sea and in the air to counter intensified "Communist truculence."

He told Congress, however, that he hoped the Kremlin's tough new line would not require any big over-all increase in defense spending as demanded by many Democrats and some Republicans, including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

But in a special message to the returning lawmakers, he added this pledge:

"Once again I assure the Congress that this nation's military power is second to none and will be kept that way."

The president's message indicated that the main argument between the White House and the Democratic Congress may center more on the way any extra defense funds are spent rather than the amount involved.

Most of the readiness steps outlined by Eisenhower involved so-called conventional defenses. Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, wants more emphasis on spectacular space age weapons.

Eisenhower told Congress in no uncertain terms that he will veto any legislation which calls for increased cash outlays but fails to provide new taxes to finance them.

'RECKLESS SPENDING'
"I will not be a party to reckless spending schemes which would increase the burden of debt of our grandchildren, by resuming, in prosperous times, the practice of deficit financing," he said.

The Eisenhower message also proposed removal of interest rate ceilings on long-term government bonds; a postal rate increase; new financing to avoid delays in the interstate highway program; increased aviation fuel taxes to finance airways modernization, and authorization of 40 new federal judgeships.

The president complained that "so far in this session only six of the 27 measures I cited last May as required by the nation's interest have been enacted into law."

ONLY ONE MEASURE
When he delivered that message, he said, "only one major measure—civil rights—had then been passed, and this had two major deletions which I hope will now be restored in keeping with the bipartisan support evidenced for these items last month."

The president obviously referred to the strong civil rights planks adopted at both the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

The two deleted civil rights proposals were to provide federal grants to help school desegregation and to help school desegregation.

Big Crowd Turns Out For Senate Opening

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big crowd—keenly conscious this is an election year—turned out today to see the Senate convene with the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees in the chamber.

Spectators jammed the galleries long before the noon hour when Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, banged his gavel to open the session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee, was sitting in his regular place in the back row.

Up front, in an aisle seat, as Senate Democratic leader, was Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, his party's vice presidential nominee.

Spectators overflowed the public galleries, standing and sitting on the steps.

The first order of business, after the opening prayer by the Senate chaplain, was the swearing in of Quentin N. Burdick as a Democratic senator from North Dakota.

Burdick won over Republican Gov. John E. Davis in a special election to fill the seat of the late Republican Sen. William Langer.

Johnson, in getting the proceedings under way, addressed Nixon in the chair in the customary way as "Mr. President."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee noted the swearing in of Burdick gave the Democrats 66 of the 100 senators.

Boy's Blow With Bat Ends Family Fracas

A distraught Indian date grower allegedly terrorized six persons in a Belvedere home yesterday with a rifle, but was laid low by a 17-year-old youth with a baseball bat.

Mattias Kornell, 44, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, despite a possible skull fracture from a solid blow on the head with the bat. He was under $1,050 bail after being booked at the Marin County Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

STRIKES BLOW
The blow that brought him down was struck by 17-year-old Joel Kaufmann, son of William J. Kaufmann of 6 Pelican Point Road, Belvedere, where the fracas occurred.

Kornell and Kaufmann are brothers-in-law.

Kornell and his wife, Joelle Kaufmann Kornell, 43, separated a week ago today. Mrs. Kornell took her three children by a former marriage—Wendy Myers, 14; Nancy Myers, 12; and Joan Myers, 11—from Kornell's date and grapefruit ranch to the home of her brother and his business partner, Morris Damron, in Belvedere. Kaufmann and Damron operate Damron-Kaufmann, Inc., San Francisco wholesale furniture firm.

Kornell was to have arrived today to discuss details of a divorce, according to information given Belvedere Police Officer Robert Scheiner.

TALKS WITH WIFE
Instead, he arrived unexpectedly at 12:50 p.m. yesterday. He talked with his wife awhile, then went out to his car, saying he had some presents for the girls in it.

Mrs. Kornell suspicious, asked her brother to call police.

Kaufmann picked up the phone. It was dead. The line had been cut. He dashed to another room, where he found a second phone was still in working order.

Meantime, Kornell re-entered the house, carrying a .22 caliber rifle. He herded his wife, the three Myers girls, Joel Kaufmann and Damron into the upstairs living room, they told police.

Then he told Joel Kaufmann to get his father from downstairs.

Instead, Joel went to his own room and got a baseball bat.

Kaufmann, Sr., returned upstairs, leaped upon Kornell and grappled for the rifle, according to the account of all present except Kornell.

He twisted the gun from his brother-in-law's hands. Son Joel, re-entering at that moment, administered the coup de grace with the ball bat.

Officer Scheiner arrived a few minutes later. Kornell, he related, was lying on the floor with blood running from his head, dictating a last will and testament leaving his estate to a sister instead of his wife.

WRITES WILL
Kaufmann wrote down the will as Kornell dictated it. Officer Scheiner and Deputy Sheriff Edward Maubert, who arrived shortly afterward, witnessed it before hauling Kornell off to the county jail and the hospital.

Kaufmann said his brother-in-law "is a vengeful man and I believe he wanted to kill my sister and her three children and skip. He had about $1,000 in his wallet and a passport."

Kornell, in great pain in the hospital, admitted carrying the rifle into the house but said he had threatened nobody with it.

"I was hit on the back, the head and the legs while they held me," he declared.

CHIMP WAS SOBER

They Couldn't Make A Monkey Of Ziggy

Sheriff's deputies couldn't make a monkey out of Ziggy. He was cold sober.

But they booked his three traveling companions on charges of drunken driving, crossing a highway divider, driving against traffic and drunk in an auto.

They took Ziggy to the Humane Society, where the 3-year-old chimpanzee stayed overnight.

Deputy Bob diGrazia said he saw a car going south on Highway 101 weave over the divider near Atherton Avenue about 3:50 a.m. yesterday.

Speeding head-on down the highway, it forced a heavy tractor-trailer off the road.

DiGrazia pursued and forced the car to the curb. Inside were the driver, Eoline F. Brashears, 42; her sister, Maxine Martin, 37; and their father, Joseph S. Powell, 64, all of Vallejo.

Ziggy, dressed in a red and silver sport shirt, and blue slacks and sneakers, peered out at the deputy from the back seat.

The driver was booked on all four charges and released on $330 bail; her sister and father, charged with being drunk in an automobile, posted $52 bail each.

They bailed Ziggy out of the Humane Society shelter at 7 a.m. today.

Dag Says Congo Poses Threat Of World War

Calls For Immediate Belgian Troop Pullout

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld warned the U.N. Security Council today that there was danger of world war if the council failed to resolve the Congo crisis.

He called for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo, including rebellious Katanga province, and entry of U.N. forces.

Tunisia and Ceylon submitted a resolution calling on Belgium to comply immediately with the secretary-general's demands.

Sources close to the council said that the Soviet Union and African delegates had agreed to the resolution, and that the Soviet Union would withhold its own resolution calling for dispatch of observers to see that U.N. troops actually go into Katanga province.

The resolution affirmed that the U.N. force will not be a party to internal conflicts in the Congo.

Hammarskjöld set out his warning in blunt words.

He delivered the warning in a hard-hitting speech at the opening of an urgent meeting of the 11-nation U.N. Security Council on the Congo crisis. He had asked for the meeting.

"I would even say that the immediate conclusion of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war," he declared.

He called on the council to spell out in a resolution that the withdrawal should apply to Katanga "and to all parts of Katanga."

"I do not hesitate to say that the speediest possible—I would even say immediate—achievement of such a solution of the Congo problem is a question of peace or war, and when saying peace or war I do not limit my perspective to the Congo," he said.

Hammarskjöld's personal report to the council was delivered as various proposals were under consideration aimed at getting a U.N. force into Katanga province.

Old Tiburon Tower Gets Lease On Life

Tiburon's historic and picturesque "Old Stone Tower" was granted a new lease of life today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Despite opposition by the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. and several individuals the commission voted unanimously to grant an adjustment permitting the Racoon Strait Land Co. to build two three-unit apartments in an area where duplexes are normally required.

Dr. Orazio G. Rosalia, president of the company, pledged preservation and restoration of the tower. But if construction between Paradise Drive and the sea required more access than for two buildings, the tower would have to go, he said.

Much of the opposition was based on fear of creating a precedent but Commissioner Margaret Azevedo, in moving approval after discussion, declared that "any commission in its right mind would not use a variance here as reason for allowing any other triplex in Tiburon."

"The Stone Tower is a unique circumstance that cannot be repeated," said Mrs. Azevedo. She reviewed the point that for the three legal lots there could be six apartments either through three duplexes—needing enough access to require tower destruction—or two triplexes allowing the tower to stand.

SEPARATIST MOVEMENTS—Map of Congo locates shaded Leopoldville Province where the government today joined secessionist Katanga, also shaded, in demanding a federation of the Congo's six provinces to replace Premier Patrice Lumumba's central regime. Separatist movements also are growing in Equator and Kasai Provinces, both underlined.

Secessionist Moves Increasing In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—Youthful followers of President Joseph Kasavubu demonstrated in the streets tonight against the government of Premier Patrice Lumumba while United Nations forces increased their patrols against possible violence.

Lumumba, nearing home after stops in the United States, Canada and Africa, was running into increasing political opposition and threats by two more provinces to secede as did Katanga.

The youths were demonstrating against Ghana's promise to use its troops to support a central government move into Katanga province, declared independent July 11 by Premier Moise Tshombe. Ghanaian and Swedish troops stood by today with light aluminum shields in readiness for an outbreak of rock-throwing, but no trouble developed.

Lumumba and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana issued a joint communique in Accra announcing establishment of a high command of African nations to act in Katanga if United Nations forces do not. Nations were not specified, but Guinea and Ghana have offered Lumumba troops.

In Leopoldville, a group of Congolese political parties announced they would split diamond-rich Kasai Province into two parts to make a seventh province and said they would secede if the Lumumba government opposed the move.

Yesterday the powerful Abako Party, led by President Kasavubu, withdrew its support from Lumumba, said he no longer commanded a parliamentary majority and threatened to secede the Bakongo area of the lower Congo, a region of two million persons.

The chief leader of the Kasai secessionist move is Albert Kalonji, who heads one wing of the National Congolese Movement party. Under the plan the split-off province would be called "the Mining province" with its capital at Bakwanga. He would be premier.

Marin Won't Join Bay Area Civic Group

The Marin County Board of Supervisors by 3-to-1 vote today turned down membership in the proposed Assn. of Bay Area Governments, despite urging by Supervisor Vera Schultz that such an organization is needed to give a "united voice" to cities and counties.

Membership would have cost the county about $1,100. Voting against joining were Chairman Walter R. Castro, and Supervisors William Gnos and James Marshall. William D. Fusselman was absent.

The board agreed, however, to include in the 1960-61 budget $75 for membership in the National Assn. of County Officials and $2,445 for the supervisors assn. fee. The latter was approved by a 3-to-1 vote, Gnos voting against it. The fee is figured by an association formula. The county had previously refused to accept the allocation.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reported that as of Aug. 4 a total of 34 cities and two counties had joined the Assn. of Bay Area Governments. For the association to be put into operation eight more cities and three more counties must join, he said.

Castro said he thought the organization was too new for

ISLAND'S CATHOLICS WARN ON REDS

Cuba Troops Seize U.S. Plants

HAVANA (AP)—Armed Cuban militiamen were in full control of most of the American property in Cuba today after its nationalization by Fidel Castro's regime.

The revolutionary government's new retaliation against the United States came only a few hours before the island's Roman Catholic hierarchy warned against "the increasing advance of communism in our country."

It was the church's first official criticism of the steadily increasing influence of the Communist bloc on the Castro regime.

Prime Minister Castro and his ministers made plain that they stood firmly with the Soviet Union as an economic and military ally, regardless of what other Latin American governments might think.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa declared that Cuba would reject any resolution of the Organization of American States, at its meeting opening Aug. 16, might adopt protesting Soviet interference in the Western Hemisphere. He asserted the Soviet Union's offer to defend Cuba against aggression could not be interference in the hemisphere's internal affairs.

Castro got out of a sick bed dramatically to announce the seizure of 770 million dollars worth of American-owned property before a cheering crowd of 50,000 at the Redtinged Latin American Youth Congress early yesterday morning.

Within hours, armed militiamen began moving into the plants that included the Cuban Electric Co., the 300-million-dollar subsidiary of the American and Foreign Power Co. of New York and the largest single investment in the island.

Other major American businesses nationalized were the Cuban Telephone Co., in which the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. has a 27½-million-dollar equity; the Standard Oil New Jersey refinery, about 70 million; Texaco refinery, 45 to 50 million; Sinclair Oil Co. operations in Cuba, worth about 5 million, and 36 American-owned sugar mills worth about 200 million.

Some of these plants had been under Cuban government control for some time but had not been formally expropriated.

Castro said that the seizures were in retaliation for "economic aggression" by the United States — and made plain he meant President Eisenhower's slash in U.S. imports of Cuban sugar.

However, the seizure decree did not extend to American banks, the 75-million-dollar Moa Bay Mining Co., the Nicaraguan Nickel Processing Corporation, and other smaller American enterprises worth about 300 million dollars in all. But Castro indicated these may be taken over, declaring "we can still take a few things more away from the Americans."

The expropriated property will be paid for with 50-year bonds at 2 per cent interest, the decree said, but there was doubt whether any payments will ever be made.

There was no immediate reaction from Castro's government to the church's anti-Communist pastoral letter, which was signed by Manuel Cardinal Arteaga, the church's highest authority in Cuba, and eight other archbishops. It was read in most churches at Masses yesterday.

Reds Accused Of Atrocities On Tibetans

GENEVA (UPI)—The Chinese Communists have carried out widespread killings, rape and torture in occupied Tibet and have tried to wipe out the Buddhist religion there, the International Commission of Jurists charged today.

The commission made the charge in a report on an investigation into conditions in Tibet made by a committee of lawyers headed by Purshottam Trikamdas, senior advocate of India's Supreme Court.

The commission is a non-governmental, non-political organization which has been given consultative status by the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

The report charged that the Red Chinese authorities, in 10 years of occupation in Tibet, have violated human rights by murder, rape, arbitrary imprisonment, torture and inhuman and degrading treatment.

In New Delhi, Trikamdas told newsmen at least 65,000 Tibetans had been killed by the Chinese Communists up to June, 1959. He said his committee had collected 750 statements for its report.

The committee found that acts of genocide have been committed by the Red Chinese in Tibet in an attempt to destroy the Tibetans as a religious group.

Pope Urges World Prayer For Peace

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Pope John XXIII urged Roman Catholics the world over yesterday to pray for lasting peace and unity of all Christian churches.

The Pope delivered his plea by radio and television from Rome to the closing session of the 37th International Eucharistic Congress.

Pope John called on people everywhere to pray that "the darkness of error is dispelled." "All of you . . . mark with anxiety the size of the cloud of dangers which overhang the human race, and how the peace of nations is placed in jeopardy," he said.

"Let us all together strive by the ardor of our prayers to obtain from Jesus Christ, prince of peace, that he enlighten the minds of the rulers of states."

WASN'T HURT, BUT SHE SURE WAS A MESS

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—An Army truck, its brakes failing, crashed into a drive-in restaurant yesterday.

Sharon Evon Hein, 9, daughter of the proprietor, was knocked to the floor with these gooey items dumped on her:

Orange and grape drinks from broken nine-gallon dispensers; root beer and a cola drink from two and one-half gallon containers; cherry and chocolate sirup from three-quarter-gallon dispensers.

Worst of all was a gallon of chocolate fudge which covered her hair and face and got into her eyes.

The Independence Hospital emergency staff swabbed the mess off Sharon.

"The girl wasn't hurt," an attendant said, "but we sure had a cleaning job to do before we found out."

'NO MAJOR PROBLEMS'

Man-In-Space Project Reported On Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top space agency official said today that the Project Mercury manned satellite program is "essentially along the same time schedule" as was initially planned.

Despite some published reports of serious lags in the program, "no major problems" have developed, Dr. Abe Silverstein said in an interview. He is director of space flight programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein reported that everything inside the Mercury capsule fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., July 29, worked properly even though the Atlas launching vehicle failed. The agency still plans to launch Mercury astronauts into suborbital flights this year and into orbits around the earth next year, as nearly on schedule as is possible in any ambitious research and development program, Silverstein said.

Seven men are being trained for orbital flights of 17,500 miles an hour, three or more times around the earth, at altitudes of 120 miles. These full-scale Atlas-launched missions will be preceded by suborbital test hops, in Redstone rocket-launched capsules, to an altitude of 125 miles and a distance of 200 miles down range from Cape Canaveral.

Dr. Homer Joe Stewart, the space agency's director of program planning, told a National Rocket Club luncheon July 28 that the Mercury program, under way now for 18 months, has had "some small slippage."

Stewart said a suborbital manned flight "is still technically possible by the end of this year, but the margin is getting a little small."

What might have been a major step forward in the Mercury program—the first attempt at an Atlas-launched ballistic flight of a Mercury capsule—turned into a sharp setback when the rocket exploded 65 seconds after launching July 29.

Silverstein said the reason for the Atlas failure was still a mystery.

"But we recovered 95 per cent of the capsule—from 50 feet of water—and got good information on it," he said.

The violence erupted when police began questioning three Zengakuren students in connection with June 10 rioting at Tokyo International Airport when U. S. presidential press secretary James Hagerty arrived here to plan President Eisenhower's visit. Helmeted Zengakuren students, carrying sticks, broke from a picket line around the conference building to attack police.

Integration Shunned

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans will have the next move in the five-year struggle to integrate Dallas public schools after a weekend election in which voters showed today they were against integration by a four-to-one margin.

Dallas voters rejected integration 30,325 to 7,416 in the special election Saturday. The vote was taken because of a state law providing that integration can be instituted only in school districts where voters approve it. Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson has ordered the school board to proceed with an integration plan in September, 1961.

Delinquency Rise Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Population Reference Bureau predicts that juvenile delinquency will increase 44 per cent in the 1960s, mainly because of the large number of war babies entering the late teen years.

Surveying For Water Project Nears Finish

Surveying is to be completed this week for the first stage of the North Marin Water District's 10-year, $3,700,000 water program.

Construction of this first phase, an approximately 30-inch water line from the north Marin County line to Novato, will cost about $1,400,000 of the bond issue approved by voters in May.

Bids are expected to be called for next month, with the district aiming for line completion next fall, said Jerome P. Gilbert, water district manager.

The line will follow the west side of Highway 101 to Atherton Avenue in Novato, where it will turn to follow the North-western Pacific Railroad track route and turn west again to end at Sunset Parkway and Cambridge streets, to connect with the existing system. Ultimately a pump station will be constructed in the area, Gilbert said.

Completion of the line will mean Russian River water can begin flowing into the North Marin system under a contract between the Marin district and Sonoma County.

If work on the line is slowed by rain, Gilbert said, at least the rain will mean the present Novato water supply at Stafford Lake will be expanded. Additional pumps for getting water from the lake at low levels are to be installed tomorrow.

Enlists In Navy

Robert Maurice Deny, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Albert Deny of 488 Ridge Road, Novato, has enlisted in the Navy at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Station at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He has been sent to the San Diego Naval Training Center for recruit training.

Novato Community Club Members To Meet Tonight

Novato Community Club members who attend a member-called meeting tonight will vote on two club bylaw amendments which would favor giving club property to the city.

In a letter reaching club members today, club president George Wahls wrote that "any resulting action (at the meeting, would be void." Wahls has refused to preside at the meeting.

Alfred Bowman, informal leader of the group which called the meeting and favors giving the clubhouse to the city, said today that it's up to the court to determine a matter of title.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the community clubhouse at 906 Machin Avenue. Scheduled for Aug. 22 is a meeting called by president Wahl at which amendments to favor city ownership of club property and opposing amendments will be offered.

School Board Chief To Quit Novato Post

George E. Jennings, named president of the Novato Unified School District board a month ago, will resign from the board at tomorrow's meeting.

Jennings, civilian director of procurement for the 28th SAGE Division at Hamilton Air Force Base, is being transferred to Colorado Springs. His resignation is expected to be written to take effect Aug. 15.

Jennings was named board president with the understanding that the move might have to be made. He replaced Earl Marshall as president.

Jennings will leave some time next week. He, his wife and two children have lived in Novato five years. He has been on the school board for three years. He previously was president of a school board in Hueneme, Ventura County.

Deluge Of Traffic Swamps Highway

Highway 101 was bumper to bumper with cars from Terra Linda to three miles north of Novato last night, California Highway Patrol Sgt. W. Pudinski said. It was one of the heaviest Sundays in years.

Pudinski said officers worked the highway by hand control of lights from 4 to 7:30 p.m. But by 8:30 the highway was so saturated that officers could do no good because they couldn't put any more cars over the highway. At 11 p.m. it was still saturated.

There were seven rear-end accidents, Pudinski said, which contributed to the congestion.

The officer said he had seven units between San Pedro Road and the county line—"that's normally more than we have on any one shift." There were also four units between San Pedro Road and the Golden Gate Bridge.

In the only injury accident reported, one car's bumper became locked with another's in a three-vehicle pile-up at 1 p.m., and it took tow truck operators an hour and one-half to untangle the autos.

The highway patrol reported a car driven by D. C. Cowden, Hamilton Air Force Base airman, hit the rear of one driven by Paul R. Cacek of San Francisco as both were northbound on Puerto Suello Hill. The cars locked bumpers and Cacek's auto was knocked against that ahead, driven by Ronald R. Funke of San Francisco.

Cacek and his wife, Patricia, suffered minor injuries but said they would see their own doctor.

Car Rolls Over; 3 Women Injured

Three San Francisco women were injured when a car driven by one of them rolled over at 5:20 p.m. Saturday on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the White's Hill crest.

The driver, Caroline Sybil Baker, 56, suffered cuts on lip, nose and left arm. Passengers Adele Leger, 52, and Elva Bowman, 57, suffered bruised chests. All were treated at Marin General Hospital.

The car swerved out of control on a curve, struck the bank and overturned. The California Highway Patrol said the mishap evidently resulted from deflation of the left rear tire on a severe curve.

Man Injured By Bus

William A. Jorgensen, 68, of 21 Park Way, Mill Valley, was bumped by a Greyhound bus yesterday morning after he dropped a part of a newspaper under the front end of the vehicle and reached under to get it. Jorgensen was taken by ambulance to a San Francisco hospital, police said, where he was treated for back pains.

JAGGED PEAKS—Morrea Island rises up 6,000 and 7,000 feet in sharp silhouette in backdrop of the schooner Wanderer, now in Tahiti and leaving Wednesday for Sausalito. On the island, Omer Darr of Mill Valley, who commanded the ship to the South Seas from Sausalito, has a plantation where he raises copra, vanilla and coffee.

SOUTH SEAS JOURNEY

Wanderer's Doctor Describes Cruise

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Dr. Thomas W. Stone, ship's doctor of the Wanderer on its latest South Seas cruise, has returned to his Mill Valley home, and the Sterling Hayden yacht is scheduled to arrive home about Sept. 19.

Dr. Stone flew home, leaving his daughter, Cathy, 13, in the Society Islands. She will fly home in about two weeks. The Wanderer itself is to leave Papeete, Tahiti, on Wednesday for Sausalito, a 40-day trip.

The doctor and 23 others left Sausalito June 10 for the South Seas cruise on the schooner, chartered from Sterling Hayden for the purpose by Omer Darr of Mill Valley.

Dr. Stone said, "On my four-hour watch we averaged about 20 miles." On his return, he took a jet plane from Honolulu to San Francisco—a four-hour trip, equal to one watch aboard ship. "It left me feeling a little bit off balance," he said.

Actor Hayden, incidentally, was to appear in Marin Superior Court this afternoon for hearing of his petition to be permitted to take his children out of the United States so that he can fill a moving picture engagement. Last time the Hayden children left the United States, it was aboard the Wanderer—for the South Seas, in defiance of a court order.

Dr. Stone said there was no illness on the trip except for a little wooziness now and then from the sea. Another doctor was to have relieved him for the homebound trip but at the last minute was unable to make it. The Wanderer will sail without a medical man.

Dr. Stone said Richard Thorson of Sausalito, the cook, was almost lost at sea while swimming while under way. The schooner moved ahead in the water, Thorson was too tired to hold onto the rope, let it go and the ship had to come around to rescue him.

Life in the South Seas for the Wanderer's crew included skin diving, shell collecting and spear fishing. In the Marquesas, Dr. Stone bought an outrigger pirogue for 1,900 francs (about $20) which was used to fish in the coral lagoons and for going ashore. When he left he gave the canoe to Darr.

First landfall for the 24 crew members was at Nuku Hiva, where they were feted with a big roast pig. They continued from island to island, visiting Paul Gauguin's grave, Typee Bay where Herman Melville's book "Typee" was set and the coral Tuamotus. "Here the water is probably the clearest of any place in the world," the doctor said. "We could see bottom at unbelievable depths."

In the Society Islands they missed Bastille day by 24 hours. However, Dr. Stone said, this is such an event in the French Polynesia that people start early and stop late. They start July 13 and when the Wanderer's crew left Papeete, Tahiti, on the 27th, they were still going strong. "It is like New Year's Eve all day long and all night long," he said. "I don't know but that they are still celebrating."

At Morrea, Darr's son, 10-year-old Billy, guided the crew around his father's plantation. The island farms copra, coffee and vanilla. "It is a terrifying landscape," Dr. Stone said. "Jagged peaks rear out of the sea abruptly. It is so inspiring you wonder how Bougainvillea and Captain Cooke had the guts to land there." Dr. Stone left the ship at Morrea to fly home.

One other Marinite aboard is Hugh Reilly, 18, son of Mrs. Frederick Scatena of Ross and an engineering student at University of California at Berkeley.

Dr. Stone said they dragged stern lines all the way from the first warm waters catching wahoo, skipjack, yellow tail and tuna—which they ate both cooked and raw.

"Whenever we got to a lagoon," the ship's doctor said, "natives came out with stems of bananas, breadfruit and mangoes."

Unit To Study Bus Stops

A committee was named by the Marin County Planning Commission today to come up with recommendation about bus stops along Tiburon Boulevard.

This resulted from recognition that the design of such stops must be agreed upon in detail and that possibly it may be necessary to ask the county board of supervisors to suggest changes in state laws.

The committee, comprising Commissioners William H. Upton and Niels Schultz Jr., the planning staff and architect Rolland B. Hammond, is to report its findings Aug. 22.

Principal planner David Van Pelt showed plans of two types of bus stop. One of maximum safety requires an extra and protected lane which in turn would need more right of way than the state is now buying for improvement of Tiburon Boulevard.

A less protected type requiring no more land was deemed by Planning Director Mary Summers "very poor, and creating a potential for accidents."

Geronimo Area Zone Changes Ruled Out

The Marin County Planning Commission today decided to make no interim zoning changes in the San Geronimo Valley, leaving zoning "as is" until adoption of a master plan.

The San Geronimo Valley Master Plan Committee had proposed that a use permit for any structure other than single-family residence be required until the master plan's adoption.

Attorney Roderick P. Martinelli showed up with petitions signed by more than 200 residents of the area protesting any change until a master plan has been approved by the property owners.

Martinelli was backed by many residents in person and he said he also represented business interests of like mind.

Planning Director Mary Summers said aerial maps and other assistance had materialized which had pushed her work "ahead a couple of years, much closer to a master plan."

"It depends on the community how fast we can agree on principles to set up for hearing." She felt this might be achieved within a couple of months, with first hearing around Jan. 1.

The voice of a onetime county supervisor, Capt. Randolph N. (Rudy) Pettersen of Forest Knolls, was raised against a master plan in an area he described as "with more sheep and cattle than humans" and where "nobody can get on party phone lines until 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon because the women sit and talk."

But despite some speakers for interim zoning, the commission felt as Commissioner Margaret Azevedo put it that "if we didn't have assurance that the master plan is close it would be wise to go into zoning."

Martinelli said those he represents "are opposed to interim zoning but not the master plan."

Illegal Booze Costs Marin Man $500

A Greenbrae resident was fined $500 and given a suspended six-month sentence today for illegal liquor operations.

Nello Ragghianti of 49 Bretano Way, who operates the San Remo Bar and Restaurant in San Francisco, had pleaded guilty to a federal charge of illegal possession and transportation of untaxed liquor.

Ragghianti was accused originally, along with John A. Powell of San Francisco, with operating an illegal still in a Pacifica residence. Powell pleaded guilty to running the still. His sentence was postponed today for a week.

Judge Michael J. Roche of U.S. District Court in San Francisco sentenced Ragghianti.

Police had found in Ragghianti's Greenbrae basement four 50-gallon barrels of whisky. Ragghianti said he made the whisky to "give to friends for Christmas."

QUENTIN SURGERY

Felon's Facelifting Bothers Attorney

Some of the felons sentenced to San Quentin Prison emerge more handsome than they entered.

Take the case of Edward Muza, 30, Los Angeles robber and one-time Kansas City dancing instructor.

Simon Rose, deputy district attorney of Los Angeles County, claims Muza got a $2,000 face-lifting job while behind the gray walls of the Marin County "big house."

"They are being nice to prisoners these days," Rose said today, "but this seems extra nice. I want to know more about it."

Muza entered San Quentin on June 24, 1959, after being processed at the Vacaville reception center, to serve a term for robbery.

He had a bump on his nose and his ears stuck out.

The next month, according to prison records, surgery was performed to remove the bump from Muza's nose. In October, he entered surgery again—to have his ears set back.

"It wasn't a face-lifting job," Associate Warden Dale B. Frady insisted today. He admitted, however, that the surgery was performed for the sake of Muza's appearance, not for medical reasons. It was done, he said, at the prisoner's request.

Rose, and Los Angeles police, believe Muza requested it for a very excellent reason: In the hope that if he succeeded in getting a retrial, witnesses could not identify him.

Muza's first conviction was set aside, and he was discharged from San Quentin on June 1 of this year to go to Los Angeles and stand trial again.

He showed up in court last week with profile improved by the nose operation and head-on view changed by the flattened ears.

"Muza was in San Quentin 13 months," said arresting Police Officer H. C. Henry (thereby erring by about two months). "During four months of that time, the surgeons worked on him, setting back his ears and fixing up the front of his face. There was no question he thought he might beat the case with a new look."

Witnesses agreed his face was changed. But they identified him anyway. He was convicted again and is to be sentenced Sept. 16—probably to return to San Quentin.

Muza's case, said Frady when questioned by the Independent-Journal, was not exceptional.

Many prisoners, he said, have such surgery performed to improve their appearance; "it is not uncommon."

The prisoner must request the surgery, and the prison medical board decides whether to perform it. Final decision rests with Dr. H. A. Gross, the chief medical officer.

Dr. Gross is away on vacation and could not be queried about the practice.

The affair is sponsored by the "Stevensonsians for Kennedy-Johnson," with Gov. Edmund G. Brown as special guest.

Roger Kent, of Kent Woodlands, state Democratic chairman, said the cocktail party "will launch a new and dynamic Democratic unity." Party workers representing all segments of the party have been invited.

State GOP Ends 'Harmony' Meet With 2 Disputes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California Republicans wound up a weekend "harmony" session in a bitter wrangle over State Senate reapportionment last night.

Neither the state convention on Saturday nor the State Central Committee yesterday was able to resolve North-South differences over Proposition 15 on the November ballot.

NORTE WOULD LOSE
Proposition 15—opposed by a Democratic State Central Committee resolution a week ago—would give Southern California heavier representation in the Senate, taking seats away from the north.

As the central committee's session drew to a close, Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael offered a resolution opposing Proposition 15.

Assemblyman Charles Edward Chapel's demand for a quorum call forced new State Chairman V. John Krehbiel of Pasadena to adjourn the meeting. There obviously was not a quorum present.

OTHERS SHUT OUT
The premature adjournment shut out several other resolutions on water, taxes and four-year terms for assemblymen.

A similar demand for a quorum call at the Democratic session would have left that party without a major part of its program. The Democrats decided most of the controversial issues in the final hours with about a quarter of the delegates present.

"We may be a minority, but what have we to fear if God is on our side?" asked new Chairman Edgar Zimmerman of Winters.

The 20-odd delegates adopted a platform calling first for prohibition of alcoholic beverages. The party has 4,137 registered members.

NO ENDORSEMENT
It fell short, however, of endorsing Proposition 1, the $1.750,000,000 water bond issue on the November ballot.

Democrats also failed to give platform endorsement to Proposition 1, backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, but adopted it as a central committee resolution.

Other highlights of the GOP state platform included calls for a return of cross-filing, laws to protect farmers from crop loss due to unfair union activity, and lower taxes.

Central committee resolutions urged stronger penalties for narcotics violators and traffickers in pornography, and repeal of the state sales tax on drugs and medicines.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland had kind words for Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic candidates for president and vice president.

He called them "gracious and intelligent" and warned Republicans not to underestimate their ability or political know-how.

But he said Vice President Richard M. Nixon is better trained in the fields of foreign policy and national security.

Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, he said, is more apt to foment new upheavals to test an unknown Kennedy administration than the "known foreign policies" of the Eisenhower-Nixon administration.

In the only contested election, former Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger of San Francisco defeated Vernon Cristina of San Jose for state vice chairman.

EXPERIMENT WORKS

CHP Chief To Seek Funds For Airplanes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California motorists, who now check side roads and rear view mirrors for lurking policemen, may soon be scanning the skies.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden of the California Highway Patrol said today that he would ask for funds in next year's budget to supplement his 2,500-man ground force with airplanes.

Crittenden said he sought the planes because of "excellent results" from a CHP experiment conducted in San Bernardino County last May and June, when a single engine craft patrolled U.S. Highways 91 and 66 from Barstow to the Nevada and Arizona lines.

The plane, a Cessna 172, ordinarily flew at 500 to 1,000 feet. Upon spotting a violator, it radioed a patrol car, which stopped the motorist to issue a citation.

Signs posted at each end of the highway sections warned motorists: "This road patrolled by aircraft." But some travelers couldn't believe it.

A woman driver, stopped for passing a truck on the left side of the center line over the crest of a hill, told the arresting officer that she had read the sign but "didn't pay it any heed because radar signs don't mean anything, so I didn't figure the plane signs meant anything either."

Crittenden said current law prevents a plane from spotting a violator, getting the car's license number (with high powered binoculars) and issuing a citation through the mail. The driver must be identified; and to do that, a ground officer must stop the car.

This means that the ground officer need not have seen the violation, but if the case went to trial, he would have to appear along with the pilot.

But in speeding arrests, which so far this year comprise 25 per cent of the statewide total, the ground officer himself must clock the motorist. The plane can only alert him that a speeder is headed his way.

Crittenden said that before airplanes could clock speeders with an electronic device, California's law against speed traps would have to be changed.

"I am not ready to make such a recommendation," he said.

Crittenden did not know how many planes he would request in the 1961-62 budget, although chances are the number will be less than four. They would be assigned to any area of the state other than Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Just a whisker behind Sanchez was Wendell Robie of Auburn, a three-time winner of the event.

Twenty-nine of the 40 riders who entered the annual race reached Auburn. Those who managed to complete the course, part of which is run along the old Emigrant Gap trail, received silver and gold buckles.

Three Sacramento riders came in fourth, fifth and sixth—Betty Jay, 17; her father, David Jay, and Paige Harper.

Capital Site Vote

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Alaskans go to the polls tomorrow in their first election since statehood.

Voters in the nation's largest state have to decide where they want their capital. An estimated 35,000 voters are expected to vote tomorrow on whether or not to move the present capital of Juneau farther north to the center of Alaska's population in the Anchorage area.

U-2 Pilot's Father Hits U.S. Opinion

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Oliver Powers, father of imprisoned U-2 pilot Francis Powers, said today he felt the American people already have convicted his son of espionage charges.

"Everytime they speak of the boy they speak of him as a spy," said Powers with tears in his eyes at a news conference prior to his departure from Richmond for Washington.

"I believe that is wrong," he said.

TO WASHINGTON
The 55-year-old Norton, Va., shoe repairman and his wife will join Norton businessman Sol Cury and Dr. Lewis K. Ingram, Mrs. Powers' physician, later today in Washington.

Powers said he felt the people of this country had already judged his son guilty of spying and "sentence will be passed by Khrushchev." Powers goes on trial in Moscow Aug. 17, his 31st birthday, on espionage charges.

The father said he had a printed copy of the alleged confession of his son to espionage charges brought by the Soviet government after the U-2 pilot was shot down deep in Russian territory last May 1.

SMALL SIGNATURE
Powers said the document bore a signature "but the name was so small you could hardly tell whose it was."

"Personally I don't believe it was that of my son," Powers, his wife, Cury and Dr. Ingram will leave New York Thursday for their trip to Moscow.

"We hope to accomplish probably more than we will. We hope to bring him back if we can," Powers said.

He said Mrs. Barbara Powers of Milledgeville, Ga., wife of the pilot, will not travel with them to Russia. She plans to leave Georgia later this week for Russia.

Powers said he had received three letters from his son and "they were in his own words and his own writing."

Powers was told the Russians are making elaborate arrangements for the public trial of his son.

"I don't like it. It should be a normal trial like... he would have in his own country," the father said.

Mrs. Powers, who suffers from a heart ailment, broke into tears during the news conference at the home of Vincent Speranza, a friend of the family. She said she had written several letters to her son and received several from him.

"It has meant everything in the world to me," she said.

Powers was asked if he felt the United States government had done enough for his son.

"They have done all they can prior to the trial and will do more after the trial. I have hope of that," he said.

He said he personally felt his son would get "nothing more than five years in prison" if convicted.

World Experts On Problems Of Aging Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two thousand of the world's experts on longevity met in San Francisco today to pool their knowledge of the physical, mental and social problems of the aged.

Representing 39 nations, the experts gathered yesterday for the fifth international congress of Gerontology, sponsored by the International Association of Gerontology.

Prof. Wilbur J. Cohen of the University of Michigan urged that the United States finance health costs of the aged through social security.

Cohen predicted that old age health legislation may well be passed in Washington.

"Within six months to a year after any bill passes, we could be providing, through social security, hospital care, home nursing care, visiting nursing service and out-patient diagnostic care for the aged," he said.

Cohen said that "neither the doctors, hospitals nor patients will be socialized, nor will government intervene in the personal doctor-patient relationship. Moreover, private insurance and private enterprise will continue to expand."

Powers said he had received three letters from his son and "they were in his own words and his own writing."

Powers was told the Russians are making elaborate arrangements for the public trial of his son.

Brown Fills Positions On New College Board

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has completed appointments to the new State College Board of Trustees and called the first meeting for Friday.

The 21-member board takes over administration of California's state college system on July 1, 1961.

It was created by the 1960 legislature's master plan for higher education to give the colleges the same autonomy enjoyed by the University of California. U.C. is governed by its board of regents.

New members—in addition to the 10 present members of the State Board of Education and five ex-officio members—named by Brown yesterday are:

Herman H. Ridder, 52, of Long Beach and Palm Springs, president and director of Ridder Publications, Inc., including newspapers in California and New York. Politically, he lists himself as an independent.

Theodore Meriam, 50, Chico Republican and department store manager. A former mayor of Chico, he is a member of the Chico State College advisory board and holds the only honorary degree ever awarded by the college—master of public service.

William K. Coblenz, 37, San Francisco lawyer and former research secretary to Brown. A Democrat, Coblenz is a graduate of the University of California and the Yale Law School.

Paul Spencer, 55, of San Dimas, a Democrat who heads his own construction firm. Spencer is a graduate of Occidental College and president of its alumni association.

J. Philip Murphy, 52, San Francisco and Piedmont, a Democrat and vice president of Yuba Consolidated Industries, Inc. He is a graduate of St. Mary's College and a member of its board of regents.

Allen J. Sutherland, 64, San Diego banker, civic leader and Democrat. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and senior vice president of the Security First National Bank of San Diego.

The members will draw lots Friday to see who gets long terms and who gets short ones. The terms of the 16 appointive members are for four years, but will be staggered so that eventually four replacements will be made each year.

The board of education now administers the state colleges, but surrenders jurisdiction to the new board next July 1.

In addition, there will be a separate coordinating council to tie together the functions of the U.C., the state colleges and the junior colleges.

Ex-officio members are the governor, lieutenant governor, superintendent of public instruction, speaker of the assembly and the board's executive officer, who has not yet been named.

Prohibitionists Show Unity At Convention

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California Prohibition Party convened here over the weekend with a display of unity that Democrats and Republicans only hoped for.

"We may be a minority, but what have we to fear if God is on our side?" asked new Chairman Edgar Zimmerman of Winters.

The 20-odd delegates adopted a platform calling first for prohibition of alcoholic beverages. The party has 4,137 registered members.

Other new officers are Ray V. Block, La Puente, vice chairman; Mrs. Effie Hoffman, Pasadena, secretary, and Edwin M. Cooper, Montebello, treasurer.

Named to the executive committee were Rev. Roy Orrin of West Covina, Mrs. Hallie N. Nicholson of Pasadena, Leslie Rice of Eagle Rock and H. J. Shield of Newbury Park.

Sports Car Skids Into Collision; 3 Persons Injured

Three persons were injured when an imported sports car went into a broadside skid and was struck by another car yesterday afternoon on Shoreline Highway three miles north of the Bolinas turnoff.

Weston Dean Baines, 23, San Francisco laboratory technician, was at the wheel when the southbound car skidded on a curve to the wrong side of the road, the California Highway Patrol reported. It was struck by a northbound sedan driven by John Frederick Orem, 52, of Los Gatos.

The sports car driver and Nathalie Baines, also 23, were discharged from Marin General Hospital after treatment for cuts and bruises. Elizabeth May Orem, 47, a passenger in the sedan, was reported in good condition at the same hospital today, with a cut over one eye and severe back strain.

Baines was cited for speeding.

Named Elector

Mary Ellen Irwin of San Rafael was named one of 32 presidential electors by the Republican state convention over the weekend to cast California's vote for president if the GOP ticket carries the state in November.

Named President

George C. Andrews, director of advertising and public relations for E. D. Bullard Co. of Sausalito, has been installed as president of the Northern California Chapter, Assn. of Industrial Advertisers.

KEEP OUT Sign Should Be Exchanged For WELCOME

The Marin Conservation League, under the leadership of its guiding spirit Mrs. Norman Livermore, has long held, and deserved, a place of respect and admiration within our community.

Stinson Beach, Tomales Park, Camp Taylor, Mt. Tamalpais and Angel Island state parks all owe their very existence in considerable part to the Conservation League.

As Mrs. Livermore and her associates have repeatedly explained over the years, they want to see Marin's beautiful trees and mountains and beaches preserved for the USE of future generations. After land has been acquired by the state and reserved for park use, the conservation league has plugged steadily for the development of facilities—picnic tables, rest rooms, water supplies, barbecue pits, camping grounds, access roads, parking areas, etc.—to make these areas accessible to MORE people.

The conservation league has never in all our memory opposed anything that would bring fuller utilization—enjoyment by more people—of our natural beauties.

When a long list of self-styled conservationists showed up at the State Division of Highways presentation of plans for a broad new road over to Stinson Beach and the Marin Coastal country, we were NOT the least bit surprised to note that the conservation league was not among the protestants. We rather imagine that quite a few league members would be glad to see a road that would make Marin's beautiful coastal country more easily reachable for enjoyment by many, many more people than can enjoy it now.

This, in our view, is true conservationism.

The conservation league bears the mark of the true conservationist. He wants to protect the beauties of nature so that others now and in the future can enjoy them.

We thought we noted a distinct touch of selfishness in much of the opposition to the state's plans for a much-needed improved route to the Marin Coast. We got the distinct impression that a considerable number of the protestants were interested in keeping the inadequate and dangerous old route as a kind of inferential KEEP OUT sign to would-be visitors.

We cannot support that kind of selfish conservationism. We say expand the parks; develop them so many more can use them; build roads so that more people can get there easier to enjoy them.

Exchange the KEEP OUT sign for one that says WELCOME.

PLENTY OF FOOD FOR THE WORLD

World food needs may be met by 1975, according to the U.S. State Department Intelligence Bureau.

The recent survey rejects the theory that the world's ever increasing population will exceed available food supplies. It maintains that even in such heavily populated areas as China and India, wheat and rice production may be greater than domestic needs within the next 15 years.

In fact, the Intelligence Bureau added that the predicted population growth would "seem likely to stimulate the production of wheat and rice in all regions, with the possible exception of North America."

History shows that mankind has always been able to conquer its most dire fears if it abides by God's law.

It takes much faith, more hope and an abundance of charity to push through all doubts and obstacles to uncover the endless blessings hidden by the Creator for the benefit of man. But those who do it are the true benefactors of humanity.

"Do not be anxious, saying, 'What shall we eat?' . . . for your Father knows that you need all these things."

(Matthew 6:31, 32)

Renew our trust in You, O Lord, to provide all our needs of body and soul.

Two Million Families Now Own A Second Home For Vacations

NEW YORK (P)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Nearly two million American families now have not one home but two. The second home, in most cases, being used as a vacation or weekend retreat.

What's a college education worth in terms of money? It is estimated to add between $100,000 and $150,000 in lifetime earnings. By 1975 some 10 per cent of the U. S. population will hold college degrees.

Cows laugh at diets. The average milk cow eats her own weight (1,300 pounds) in hay and grain every month.

A depressing statistic: Safety experts say that probably half of the six million cars produced in 1960 will be involved in injury-or-death producing crashes during their normal eight-year life span.

If your daughter has a marked love of pets, perhaps a career as a veterinarian might interest her. The United States now has nearly 300 lady animal doctors.

Rats may lack many virtues but they are great homebodies. They rarely go more than 100 feet from their nesting or hiding places for food or water.

It was barbed wire—not the six-gun—that really tamed the Wild West. Until Joseph Glidden invented this cheap form of fencing in 1874 few homesteaders could adequately protect their crops from being eaten by wandering range cattle.

Ever wake up at night wondering who was the first left-handed U. S. president? Well, here's the cure for your insomnia: He was James A. Garfield.

You can tell a black widow spider by the red hourglass on her abdomen. Some 1,500 people are bitten each year by this kind of spider, whose venom although it rarely kills is drop for drop more deadly than that of the rattlesnake.

How strong is your wife? Some doctors say 25 pounds is the greatest weight a normal healthy woman should try to lift.

HOW STRONG is your coffee? The average housewife gets 64 cups from a pound. And the average coffee lover now gulps down 19 pounds a year.

An ulcer is sometimes called "the executive's merit badge," but ulcers remain a great health problem. They take 10,000 lives annually in America.

IT WAS ALEXANDER Smith who observed, "a man's real possession is his memory. In nothing else is he rich, in nothing else is he poor."

Other Means Of Curbing Blight

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

Vice is seemingly taking bud in the tree tops of Marin County, and like a bad fruit can eventually consume the whole tree. Must the tree be sacrificed for the sake of a few bad fruit? Certainly there are other means of curbing a blight, which threatens to destroy a boyhood heritage, than that of the brutal condemnation of tree houses in Marin and other counties in the Bay Area . . .

If I can give my son a good home, a healthy life and the wonderful memories of his childhood, then he can build a tree house in every tree on the property and I shall be content with my contribution to his welfare.

The Independent-Journal welcomes letters but reserves the right to condense or edit out salacious material.

Proposition 18 in 1958 came as no surprise, but served to upset my digestion, nonetheless.

Why don't I cancel my subscription? Simple. If I did, I couldn't keep up with the latest propaganda the "enemy" is spewing forth. And, of course, you're in a most enviable position. No other fish-wrappers enjoys the circulation yours does. You have the county wrapped up. Because yours is a good paper? I think not. RATHER because yours reflects the thinking of the majority of your readers. This is a predominantly Republican county (one of only three in the entire state, I believe) and it would be safe to assume that the majority of your readers applaud an endorsement of anything and everything Republican, and see nothing at all wrong with a color splash of Tricky Dick across your front page.

In any event, my challenge to you is not based upon your editorial attitude, or the fact that you have the effrontery to accept awards for a job very sloppily done (Although tonight's editorial page is the minor, insignificant event that has set off this letter. E.g., the "What Our Readers Say" column consists of the heading and nothing else. Boyle's column carries the head "No wonder girls rush to marry, statistics are against 'em." The editorial cartoon should make even YOU blush for the inane, nonsensical, childish presentation of a tenuous point.) Instead, I defy you to make any claim next year on the basis of STRAIGHT REPORTING. This, after all, is what a newspaper is supposed to do. Freedom of the press means the freedom to report, not a freedom to suppress. Ownership of the medium is not a license to pound the news into whatever shape happens to fit the political mood of the publisher.

Therefore, beginning with the July 11 issue, the day the Democratic Convention opened, I intend to make a careful count of the number of column inches afforded in your paper to straight PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN reporting. This will NOT include anything on the editorial page. IT WILL, however, include picture cuts, regardless of size, and will include relative stories and side-bars. I will keep a daily running total of the number of inches afforded the major candidates, and will be happy to keep you apprised of how you're doing. Or do you think you'll really need to know?

Parent Bemoans Tree House Fate

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

Oh the shame, the sorrow, the suffering of parenthood! As the mother of five criminals who have been engaged in this nefarious practice of building tree houses and forts (virtually since birth), my humble congratulations and huzzahs to Sheriff Mountanos and his trusty Vice-inspector William C. Bradley. (Shown in the I-J peeking out of one of these dens of iniquity.) Little did I realize that I was raising a litter of viperous Fagans. In my guilt, I must admit that I thought they were just being "normal" (did I hear a voice inquiring, "What IS normal?") adjusted, outgoing future voters. However, now I must bow to the will of our alert, vigorous agents of the law. I am confident that they will never waver, will dedicate all of their energies until this case is closed, showing the sweaty hand stamping it "Mark VII."

A varied assortment of animals was gossiping and idling at an African water hole when an agitated monkey suddenly bounded into view crying, "To the jungle, friends! White hunters are on your trail!"

"Oh, you monkeys," yawned a hippo, "Always spreading wild rumors. Where, for example, did you pick up this one?"

"I got it," said the monkey with quiet dignity, "over the apevine."

Once Upon A Time There Was A Valley Named Tamalpais . . .

ONCE UPON A TIME there was a valley named Tamalpais. It was not a town. It was unincorporated, a population about 2,800, elevation about 36 feet on Maple Street.

One man who lived in the valley named Don Boothroyd said he liked the winding roads and woodsey character of the valley. He said "some of us like un-regimentation. We don't care if a day goes by that we don't get out of the valley into the supermarket."

Then one day a lot of people came to Tamalpais Valley Elementary School. They were going to talk about running a six-lane freeway down the middle of the valley.

One man at the other end of the highway said fine, let's get rid of the 287 curves. "They are kind of hard on the ulcers." One man said progress and people are bound to come. Another said "We will need the proposed road long before the automobile is obsolete."

THE MEN WITH the maps said the present highway was deficient. It is a cow path with its tortuous route and a new route is needed to handle traffic as it will develop in Tam Valley and on the coast, preferably a freeway.

A baby cried from somewhere back in the hall. A television man whirled his camera up and down at maps pinned around the room. The official stenotype reporter pounded on his plastic keys.

People came from Stinson Beach, the town that you either drop down to off the mountain or get to by wiggling along Bolinas Lagoon. It was about the same story.

JAMES MURRAY of Tiburon, of the Save Stinson Beach Committee, said his group wanted the road pushed up into the hills as far as it could go, if it had to be built.

The committee, he said, opposed the route right through the small business area with its two planned interchanges. "It isn't the greatest business community in the world," he said, "but it's there. It doesn't leave any other practical place for a business community." Murray submitted 180 names and said, "We'll keep offering them until we have 700." The Stinson Beach road sign says population 700, he said.

Dr. Joel Gustafson, president of the Pt. Reyes National Seashore Foundation, said the slope is made of sandstone and shale and that the highway won't stay there.

Dr. Martin L. Griffin, president of the Marin Audubon Society, spoke for saving the Bolinas Lagoon for a state park. He said realigning the road would be a threat to the nesting grounds of egrets and blue herons. "Inlets give the lagoon its character. As a freeway with a fence, it will lose all esthetic appeal."

AT ONE POINT in the meeting J. P. Sinclair, assistant highway engineer of the California Division of Highways, asked people to hold their applause because it was lengthening the meeting. He stood the whole time—three and one-half hours.

Many people supported the Sierra Club's idea of dropping the freeway proposal and saving the open space for recreation purposes. It was suggested by Bruce Kilgore of the club that the proposal for a freeway be withdrawn as it was on the Carmel-San Simoe Highway.

In Almonte there is a hill which looks down on Tam Valley. The other day, going along an undeveloped part of Princeton Avenue on this hill, the paved road ended and a dirt road began, wild on one side with blackberry bushes. Making tracks in the soft dust was a mother quail and some small spotted ones running behind.

Who will say he does not understand the feeling of the people who came to talk freeways and filled the hall to overflowing at the elementary school in Tamalpais Valley?

Soviet Blast At Monroe Doctrine Scares Latin American Leaders

WASHINGTON — Unintentionally Premier Khrushchev has focused the attention of the entire Western hemisphere upon the central anxiety of all the American republics over what is happening to the Castro regime in Cuba.

He did it by blasting the Monroe Doctrine as outdated and meaningless.

Khrushchev apparently thought that the Monroe Doctrine was a United States device to impose the United States' will upon Latin America and that by attacking it he would undercut the U. S. and make friends for himself in Latin America.

THE FACT is that Mr. K. is being quite a help. His tirade is backfiring. It is not the Monroe Doctrine which is out of date or out of favor. It is Khrushchev's views of the Monroe Doctrine which are out of date.

That's why his efforts to bury the Monroe Doctrine are having a different effect than he expected.

There's good reason. The Monroe Doctrine is not a unilateral United States fiat against foreign intervention in the Western hemisphere. It used to be. It isn't any longer. It is a multilateral commitment by all the Western hemisphere nations to join in common defense against any outside intervention in the Western hemisphere.

Thus, in attacking the Monroe Doctrine, a collective bulwark against outside intervention, the Soviet Premier is suggesting to the Organization of American States that the Western hemisphere ought to be open to outside intervention.

THIS LATEST Khrushchev blast gives most Latin-American leaders, at least those outside Cuba, cold shudders. By condemning the principle of non-intervention, imbedded in the revised Monroe Doctrine and written into the charter of the Organization of American States, Khrushchev is to them advocating the right of Soviet intervention. This is the last thing they want. And Mr. K., by trying to spread fear of the United States in Latin America, has increased Latin American fears of the Soviet Union.

Further, the Kremlin attack on the Monroe Doctrine comes at the very time when the Castro regime is providing the answer to what until recently has been this unresolved question: is Castro simply conducting a reckless revolution that may only wreck the Cuban nation or is he being led into fanning hatred and fear of the United States in order to turn Cuba into a Communist satellite?

The reason the Western hemisphere Foreign Ministers are meeting twice this month, first in Washington and later in Lima, is that the evidence is mounting that Cuba is falling steadily into the hands of Communists whose first loyalty is to Moscow or to Peking or to both.

CASTRO PROMISED free elections and has refused to hold them.

Castro promised a free press and has outlawed all independent newspapers.

Castro promised the right of habeas corpus and has suspended it.

Castro promised land to the landless farmers and instead has put them in communes patterned after the Red Chinese.

Today the Cuban nation is a full-scale dictatorship infiltrated by Communists and dominated by a secret police.

Suspect In Hit-Run Death Arrested As Drunk Driver

Euel White, 47-year-old Olema carpenter, was arrested on a charge of drunken driving yesterday—two days before he was to appear in municipal court on a charge felony hit-run driving in the death of a Navy pensioner.

He was apprehended shortly after midnight traveling east on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Woodacre by Deputy Sheriff Robert Bertrand. He admitted taking several tranquilizers, Bertrand said.

The body of Grant Fred Hinchey, 56 Olema pensioner, was found guarded by his dog at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Highway 1 on June 18. Sheriff's deputies arrested White on a charge of felony hit-run driving after blood, hair and bits of clothing were found on the underside of his car. White admitted hitting the pedestrian but insisted Hinchey was already dead.

White is due to appear tomorrow in Marin County Municipal Court to enter a plea to the hit-run charge. He had been free on $1,050 bail.

"It can't be a very good safe when it can be thrown out a window," Falvey complained.

Small Car Flips; Driver Injured

A San Francisco driver was painfully injured Saturday afternoon when his small foreign car did a complete somersault and landed back on its wheels, but two young girls riding with him escaped with only bumps.

John William Reeves, 33, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple cuts on both legs and hands.

The California Highway Patrol said Reeves was southbound on Waldo Grade when a truck cut in front of him, he braked suddenly and his car went out of control, flipping over and landing upright in the northbound lanes. The girls were so little hurt the highway patrol did not even take their names.

Tam Board Passes Budget Once More

Trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District today re-adopted the district's $3,863,097 budget for 1960-61 after it had been published in Saturday's issue of the Marin News in Sausalito.

The budget was first adopted Monday night without a check having been made to see if it had been published, as required by law. It was subsequently found that it had not been.

The budget calls for a tax rate of not more than $1.81 per $100 assessed valuation.

Shoreline Highway Work Bids Called

The California Department of Public Works today called for bids for some improvements on the stretch of Shoreline Highway which it plans to expand to a freeway and re-route.

Bids were called for reconstruction and drainage improvements at four locations on the route between Muir Beach and 5.3 miles south of Olema. The department said about $120,000 is available for the work.

Turning to the farm question, Eisenhower told Congress "the well-being of our farm people still demands that we act with good sense on their pressing problems, notably wheat."

He said he still stood by the "broad guidelines" he listed last May for acceptable farm legislation.

"My own preferred program, leading to greater freedom for the farmer, is widely known," he said. "I repeat, however, what I have said many times—if a different approach is desired, and kept within the guidelines, I will unhesitatingly approve it."

The president also renewed his plea for legislation to help sections of the nation suffering from economic blight.

Saying he had no choice but to veto the area assistance bill of Congress passed earlier this year, Eisenhower urged passage of an administration substitute which he said "would channel more help directly into stricken areas than any previous measure proposed."

The president also told the legislators he wants:

1. A 100-million-dollar increase in flexible foreign aid funds "to keep America poised for sudden developments such as those in the Congo where a U. S. airlift and other efforts were needed suddenly and critically."

2. A 600-million-dollar authorization by Congress for a program of aid to Latin America.

3. Advance approval for a food-for-the-hungry proposal which he said will be presented to the United Nations General Assembly in September.

Child Molester Isn't Psychopath

A panel of doctors reported today that John William Ball, convicted child molester, is not a sexual psychopath.

Their decision was presented by Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in Marin County Superior Court where Ball, of 809 Wilson Avenue, Novato, is awaiting sentence.

Sentencing was postponed until Aug. 22 pending completion of the probation office report.

Giants' Troubles? Minor Leaguers Trying To Do A Major League Job

The baseball picture in California, especially in the San Francisco area, where the Giants hold forth, has had an eclipse. It might be permanent, yet it could be temporary. There is little the cash customer can do about sharpening up the offense or tightening up the defense. All that can be hoped for between now and the finish of the 1960 National League pennant fight is that Horace Stoneham, owner of the club will get moving, take the rubber band off his bankroll and go out and buy some major leaguers, instead of youthful, inexperienced minor leaguers. The wolf in sheep's clothing doesn't apply to the Giants. Rather it is the reverse. We get nudged on how great are "Roadblock" Jones and Juan Marichal, and the golden glove of Jimmy Davenport and so on down the line and it turns out to be just a load of hooey. The time has arrived now to ask not what is the matter with the Giants, but what the hell is the matter with Horace Stoneham? When Stoneham brought his Giants to San Francisco everybody had a high regard and a terrific respect for his judgment as a baseball magnate and his know-how. Nobody has ever questioned his sportsmanship. But now a lot of people are beginning to ask pertinent questions about his business sense in baseball. THE IMPORTATION of minor league stars started with Orlando Cepeda, then Willie Kirkland, then Willie McCovey and in all instances the lads started out good and great promise was expected of them. Today Cepeda is the only solid minor leaguer with the Giants with major league credentials. The fact that the Giant management is willing to gamble its future with Woolworth players is annoying to say the least. There are better ball players being waived out of the National League than regulars on the Giant payroll. Yet the club passes them up, rattles the dice and takes its chances on youthful but goofy youngsters who are not mature enough, smart enough nor eager enough to cut the mustard. MUCH OF the blame for the failure of the Giants in 1960 will have to be laid at the door of Stoneham, not because he fired Bill Rigney but because he chose to re-hire him after a two-year fizzle out when he showed no signs of a great leader. Then came the mixup with old Tom Sheehan, a scout of some merit. Tom never wanted the job, despite what some eastern critics have said. I

Marin Loses Pony League Playoff, 3-1

Southern Marin All-Stars were eliminated from the Northern California Sectional Pony League Baseball Tournament Saturday night at San Jose by dropping a tight 3-1 decision to the San Jose entry.

It was Marin's second straight loss in the double-elimination tournament after winning its first two games. Yesterday Santa Cruz beat San Jose 3-0 to win the tournament and advance to the Regional Championships at Santa Monica starting this week. Santa Cruz had a 4-1 won-lost record, San Jose 3-2, Sacramento 3-2, Southern Marin 2-2, Ukiah 1-2, Arcade 0-2 and Campbell 0-2.

San Jose broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning with what proved to be the deciding run and tacked on an insurance tally in the sixth.

GALLAGHER SCORES After San Jose scored its first run in the first inning, Southern Marin tied it up in the fourth when Lon Gallagher drew a walk, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on a passed ball.

The losers collected only two hits, both singles by Terry Jarick. The tournament committee named him the Marin team's most valuable player.

Marin used three pitchers, starting with Steve Long who gave up one run and two hits in three innings. Tom O'Neill came on in the fourth and was charged with the loss as he gave up one run and four hits. Dave Beswick finished up, yielding one more run and two hits.

'Wild Bull Of Pampas' Dies At 65, Still Convinced He Was Champion

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo died of a heart attack yesterday at 62 still convinced that he won the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey almost four decades ago.

It was on Sept. 14, 1923 that Firpo stepped in the ring at the Polo Grounds to battle Dempsey for the title. The fight lasted less than two rounds but it was one of the most vicious in history.

Seven times in little more than two minutes, Dempsey knocked Firpo to the canvas. Then, with less than a minute left, Firpo caught Dempsey with a lethal right to the head.

The champion toppled through the ring ropes and on to the typewriters of reporters covering the fight. He climbed back into the ring, covered up for the rest of the round and came out fighting again in the second.

Again he caught Firpo and the Wild Bull of the Pampas, as he had become known, toppled twice more. Each time he got up. Then at the 57-second mark, Dempsey again connected and this time Firpo didn't get up.

The fight established Firpo as a national idol here. After meeting Dempsey, Firpo fought only twice more in the United States. He lost both bouts. Then he came back to Argentina, fought a few times and quit the ring.

He fought only once more—in 1936 when he took a bout with Arturo Godoy. Firpo was 42. Godoy knocked him down seven times before putting him away for good in the third round.

the champion in that fight with Dempsey," Firpo recalled recently. "Dempsey fouled me three times and should have been disqualified. Once he hit me when I was getting up, and once he hit me when I was talking to the referee. "After I knocked him out of the ring, I figured it took him at least 16 seconds to get back."

Giants Blow Two More, Drop Deeper Into Second Division

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, amid another victory-drought that's nearly become their trademark during the past two months, packed a four-game losing streak into Cincinnati tonight to battle the Redlegs for three games. San Francisco took it on the chin from league-leading Pittsburgh twice yesterday, 4-1, and 7-5, as the Pirates swept a four-game series. Young Mike McCormick is slated for Giant mound duty tonight when the San Franciscans attempt to snap a week-long slump that's seen them drop seven of their past eight. Previously they had bagged five straight in friendlier Candlestick Park. The Giant southpaw will face right-hander Cal McLish (3-7). McCormick's record is 10-6. San Francisco's doubleheader setback dropped the lonely fifth-place club 11 games behind Pittsburgh and four and one-half back of fourth-place Los Angeles. The Giants are seven and one-half ahead of sixth place Cincinnati. The high-flying Pirates, playing before a capacity Forbes Field crowd, never trailed in the opener as Bob Friend tossed a seven-hitter to notch his 12th victory. San Francisco scored quick in the nightcap to lead 5-0 in the second inning. But the never-say-die Pirates tied it with three runs in the sixth and went ahead with a pair in the eighth. Dick Groat's perfectly executed squeeze bunt scored the deciding marker. Giant catcher Hobie Landrith slammed his first home run of the season in the seventh inning of the opener. But by that time the Pirates already had tallied two in the third. And they added another pair in their half of the stretch frame. Giant batters erupted to commence the nightcap. Joe Amalfitano and Willie Mays singled in the first and Felipe Alou blasted his second homer of the season to drive them across. Then Don Blasingame parked his second roundtripper with one aboard in the second.

PRO GRID ROUNDUP

Individual Heroics Highlight AFL Tilts

By Associated Press The cloak of responsibility for the success of the fledgling American Football League has been draped squarely over the shoulders of such men as Jack Spikes and Paul Lowe.

If the newly-organized circuit is to buck the established National League in the battle for the entertainment dollar, the untested rookies like Spikes and the tested castoffs such as Lowe will have to provide a top-quality brand of football.

They did just that as the AFL paraded its talent in weekend exhibitions. Spikes, former Texas Christian stalwart who was a second team All-America selection, scored twice and kicked a pair of field goals as the Dallas Texans whipped the Houston Oilers 27-10 at Tulsa.

Lowe, a hand-me-down from the NFL's San Francisco club, grabbed the opening kickoff at Los Angeles, raced 105 yards for a touchdown and the hometown Chargers went on to defeat the New York Titans 27-7. The NFL's new Dallas entry, with veteran Eddie LeBaron quarterbacking, made an unsuccessful debut at Seattle as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Cowboys 16-10. Spikes drove 1 and 3 yards for his touchdowns and kicked field goals of 22 and 48 yards to spoil the Oilers' debut. The other Dallas TD came on a 57-yard pass from Cotton Davidson to Johnny Robinson. Charlie Minstead tallied the lone Houston touchdown on a 5-yard scamper.

Supposedly short at quarterback, the Chargers sprung former Occidental star Jack Kemp at the Titans. Kemp, who completed 15 of 33 passes, pitched for one touchdown and scored himself on a 24-yard run. Quarterback Dick Jamieson hit pay dirt for New York on a 6-yard dash.

But then Pittsburgh went to work as Don Hoak drove in lone runs in the second and fourth. And Joe Christopher whacked his first major league homer with two on in the sixth to tie it.

Pittsburgh went ahead battling against Sherman (Roadblock) Jones, the third San Francisco hurler, in the eighth. Bill Mazeroski singled and Roy Face beat out a bunt. Jones got Christopher to force Face at second. Then Groat laid down a squeeze bunt to score Mazeroski from third. When first baseman Orlando Cepeda threw the ball into right field, Christopher came all the way around with an insurance tally.

Jones was charged with his first major league loss. Billy O'Dell started and gave way to Billy Loes in the seventh. Jack Sanford (9-10) suffered the opening defeat as Stu Miller finished up.

A Metropolitan Opera star who also makes personal and television appearances, and does recordings, can earn about $100,000 a year.

'Mature Brodie' Sparkles In 49er Win

Aerial Attack Carries S.F. To Win Over Dallas

NMORAGA—San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie, former Stanford All-America, may be reaching pro maturity in his fourth season with the National Football League.

In Saturday's San Francisco-Dallas exhibition game in Seattle, which San Francisco won 16-10, Brodie showed a cool head in the jams, and a talent for engineering touch down drives.

Brodie directed the team in the first half, and hit 11 out of 14 for 133 yards while moving the 49ers to a second quarter touchdown and a 9-0 halftime lead.

Another Brodie engineered touchdown was called back for a holding penalty.

On frequent occasions when his protection broke down, Brodie eluded tacklers and saved the play with on-the-button passes.

Forty-Niner Coach "Red" Hickey had praise for several other 49ers, particularly rookie Dee Mackey, a 236-pounder from East Texas State who caught Brodie's first touchdown pass and ran five yards over Doyle Nix to score.

The 49ers will meet the Washington Redskins Sunday at Kezar, and will have an extra hand to work with.

KRUGER RETURNS

Charley Kruger, a regular defensive end, has been released from Army duty and joined the club today.

San Francisco's victory of the NFL's new entry from Texas looked pretty close on the scoreboard, but Hickey had plenty of margin for experimenting. He tried two separate units on both offenses and defense.

When the Cowboys threatened to score an upset in the closing minutes, the first string defensive team put out the fire on the strength of Dave Baker's second interception of the game.

As the first half neared its end, the two teams had battled to what looked like a base-ball score. The 49ers led, 2-0, on a safety scored when the Dallas center looped the ball clear over the head of punter Dave Sherer and he was nailed in the end zone.

Then with two minutes to go, the 49ers marched 99 yards and scored on the 34-yard pass from Brodie to Mackey.

FIRST NFL SCORE

The Cowboys got their first NFL score in the fourth period when Fred Cone booted a field goal from 16 yards out. The 49ers came up with the clincher six minutes later when quarterback Y. A. Tittle moved his team 72 yards and sent C. R. Roberts around right end to score from four yards out.

Then Dallas came up with the spectacular play of the game. Quarterback Eddie LeBaron passed 41 yards to Frank Clarke and he romped 15 yards into the end zone.

The Cowboys were playing for keeps. LeBaron and Don Heinrich handled the quarterback chores and all the running was done by two top men—former Green Bay star Don McIlhenny and former 49er Gene Barb.

Brodie and Tittle both had good days. Besides Brodie's 11 of 14 passes for 145 yards and a touchdown, Tittle completed 8 of 12 for 72 yards and a TD.

Two Host Teams Win Titles In Hub City Youth Tourney

San Anselmo's second annual All-Star Youth Baseball tournament was in the record books today with the Hub City's entries victorious in both the Senior and the Junior leagues, Gallinas Valley the champion in the Major League and Hamilton Air Force Base the winner in the Minor League.

The Seniors bested San Rafael's top 15-16-17-year-olds two games out of three, winning the deciding 14-7 yesterday after San Rafael had evened the series 6-5 Saturday. The Juniors—13-14-year-olds—bested Fairfax in the finals 9-5.

In the Majors, Gallinas Valley triumphed over Hamilton AFB, 2-1. But the air base's Minor League representatives came through with the title in their division, 7-1 over San Anselmo.

Sunday in post-tournament ceremonies, Tournament Director Frank Quinn, boss of the San Anselmo recreation program, led the presentation of awards to both champion and runner-up teams in all four divisions as well as most valuable player trophies in each.

Most valuable player in the Minor League was Rick Edwards of Hamilton AFB, and in the Majors, Don Knotts of Gallinas Valley. In the Junior League two most valuable awards were made—to Pat Murray and Phil Ferris, both San Anselmo. In the Senior League there were three—Mike Quinn and Stan Chapman of the winning Hub City team and Rich Curry of San Rafael.

In the Senior League playoff San Rafael started with a rush with five runs in the first two innings, including solo homers by Jerry Smith in each and a third solo four-bagger by Tommy Williams. Then San Anselmo's Chapman settled into his pitching chores—he had taken the mound in relief in the first frame—and allowed only four hits the rest of the way while striking out eight.

In the fourth, the winners came up with a tremendous 11-run effort off seven hits, including a grand slam homer by Lou Ramsay, to take a lead they never lost. The San Rafael club used four pitchers.

Tiburon Trounces Jeffs; Ed Vigno Slams Five Hits

Tiburon Pelicans, with Buzz Wensloff and Fred DeMartini sharing the pitching honors and Eddie Vigno Jr. and Jim Barbeau wielding booming bats, trounced the San Francisco Jeffersons 14-0 yesterday in a semi-pro basketball action at Tiburon.

Wensloff gave up six scattered hits in seven innings and DeMartini finished up, allowing three hits in the final two frames for Tiburon's third shut-out.

Vigno started the game as leadoff man by nailing the second pitch for a home run. Before the dust had settled in the ninth frame he had two more doubles, two singles for five hits in six tries, scored four runs and driven in two.

Barbeau had four hits including a double, scored three times and batted in three

BAY AREA YACHTING

Wosser Retains Cup In Challenge Tussle

By ALFRED MATSON

Jake Wosser continued his winning ways in the San Francisco Perpetual Trophy department Saturday by successfully turning back the St. Francis Yacht Club aspirant Dean Morrison.

It was a close race for the greater part of the course with the challenger in the lead by 15 seconds at the leeward mark, but on the long windward thrash to Crissy Buoy, Jake was not long in gaining the top spot. Once the two boats had achieved the San Francisco waterfront, the defending Dusty was in the van by better than a minute over the St. Francis III.

It was but a matter for Wosser to cover on the short tacks up the beach, and from then on there was relatively little change in the distance between the two boats. To the toots of the whistles of the accompanying spectator fleet, the Dusty slid across the finish line 56 seconds ahead of the beaten challenger.

THE BID of the Lake Merced Sailing Club for the Small Yacht Racing Assn. perpetual trophy failed against the defense of the Sausalito's Y.C.'s Grant Willson racing in boats of the 110 class. The invading Walter Gelken was easily repulsed as Willson moved into quick leads in both races and romped home the winner by most convincing margins.

Today Grant and crewman Mike Mirata head for bigger things as participants in the 110 Nationals at Marblehead, Mass. Mike Figour of Tiburon will head east with them, but will charter a boat there.

IN YESTERDAY'S YRA class regatta Wosser returned to the field of battle, only this time in his own IC Rutsan. And in a far more exciting race than the Perpetual, he waged a ding dong battle with Bob Vidmar and his Gypsy. Vidmar took the lead at the start and was never headed, but Jake was breathing down his neck all the way. Only two seconds separated the two at the finish.

The class turnout was relatively small with only 103 boats crossing the starting line.

Errors Ruin M.V. In Semi-Pro Tilt

Judnick's Tavern team of San Francisco capitalized on seven errors to score eight unearned runs yesterday in scoring a 10-6 victory over the Mill Valley Merchants in semi-pro action at Mill Valley.

The loss was Mill Valley's ninth against seven victories.

Bright marks for the losers were the hitting of Bill Jambois, Pete Peterson and Woody Slatt each with two safeties, including a triple by Slatt; a double by Dave Perlis and two runs-batted-in each for Tom Rogers and Paul Turncrantz.

Marin Buffs Bow Out Of Tournament With Second Loss

By KARL BARRON

Marin Buffalows lost to the Riverside Dons yesterday afternoon, 5-3, and became the second Marin County team eliminated from the California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Albert Field, San Rafael.

But the local lads made Riverside do it the hard way, going 12 innings before they gave up two and dropped the game.

In the wildest of three games played yesterday, Acme Carpet scored four in the top of the ninth to win 10-9, over the Pontiac Braves, both of Oakland. The Braves held the edge throughout, although Acme tied it up in the fourth. The losers had sixteen hits to the winners' six!

The Burlingame Red Sox came up with a 4-3 win over Brisbane Athletic Club in a bitter battle, as Burlingame pitcher Dave Turnbull slammed a bases empty home run that eventually made the difference.

Riverside's Don Losee, still in high school, held the Marin Buffalows to eight hits, the best a double by Gary Conwell, second baseman.

Nino Geminiani was the starter for Marin, walked the first four men to give Riverside a run, and was replaced by Ron Cole, who also scattered eight hits in the remainder of the contest.

The Buffalows scored once in each of the first two innings, and held a 2-1 lead until the fifth, when Riverside pushed two across.

In the bottom of the ninth, the Buffalows scored the tying run on a single by Jerry Ard, who had four out of five. The battle went on until the top of the 12th, when Riverside brought in the final two to ice the game, as Losee got the Buffs in the bottom of the inning.

BITTER BATTLE

The second game yesterday pitted the two top NBC teams from the Peninsula, as Burlingame edged Brisbane, 4-3. Rivalry in this one was extra hot, for they had met once this year, with Brisbane winning a game that is still under protest. They tied for first in the Peninsula League.

Dave Turnbull, who went 15 innings in Burlingame's first win in the tournament, turned in a fine steady pitching performance for the Red Sox except for the seventh. The chunky right hander also slugged one over the left field fence to insure his win. He had three for four for the day.

In the seventh, with Burlingame leading three to one, Turnbull walked two, and a hit by first baseman Mansel Roland brought in two and tied it up. But in the bottom of the inning, Brisbane's Ray Vuilleman, who went the distance, was clipped for three hits for Burlingame's winning tally.

In yesterday's nightcap the Pontiac Braves got three straight hits to open the ball game, and Acme starter Rick Herrera was replaced by former Las Vegas hurler Lou Profumo. Brave's third sacker George Aubrey and right fielder Charles Aikens collected two more, and it was Pontiac three, Acme nothing after half an inning. The Braves tallied another in the third, but Braves starter Leonard Nears gave up two walks in the fourth which, coupled with two hits, brought in four for Acme and tied it up. The Braves came right back, and belted four hits for four runs in the fifth, including a homer by center fielder Curt Moulton, who cracked Profumo's first pitch high over the left field fence.

Four Injuries Mark Seafair Trophy Race

SEATTLE (AP)—Flames, flips and falls punctuated the $10,000 Seafair Trophy Race for unlimited hydroplanes yesterday and prompted a tentative postponement of the final heat until this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Headquarters of the American Power Boat Assn. in Detroit was asked to approve the postponement.

Three drivers and a sky diver were injured. The latter, Charles Kirkpatrick, 26, of Snohomish, Wash., cut loose too quickly from his chute during an exhibition jump and fell 50 feet into Lake Washington. He suffered serious chest injuries.

Mira Slovak, an airplane pilot who drives speedboats as a hobby, was thrown 30 feet and knocked unconscious when his boat, the Wahoo, flipped completely over during a high-speed turn.

Driver Bob Larsen jumped from his boat and a frogman leaped from a rescue helicopter to save him. Slovak was not seriously injured.

The boats were running the scheduled final 15-mile heat of the day when the Miss U.S. I of Detroit caught fire. Driver Don Wilson jumped, but not before he suffered second degree burns.

Officials ordered a rerun of the heat, but on the first lap Col. Russ Schlee, another pilot who doubles in boats, was pitched out of the Thriftway Too. Again the Coast Guard helicopter made the rescue but Schlee had escaped with bruises.

Entered for today's rerun were Miss Thriftway, Miss Spokane, Breathless II, Seattle Too, Miss Burien, Kolroy and Tool Crib. All are from the Seattle area except Miss Spokane and Breathless II, which is based at Lake Tahoe, Nev.

DR. MOORE IN RAGE

Hiker Chucks Fruit At Customs Officials

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Barbara Moore, who recently walked across the United States, flew into a fruit-flinging rage last night when customs officials at San Francisco Airport began to confiscate fruit and vegetables she was carrying.

"That's my food," cried the British vegetarian hiker who had just returned from Australia, en route to London. "That's all I have to eat. I will not eat that stuff they serve on the plane."

California law forbids the importation of fruits and vegetables that might contaminate state crops with foreign diseases.

Supervising Customs Inspector George Muller said the Russian-born physician first said she had nothing to declare.

"When we inspected her," said Muller, "we came up with cucumbers, oranges, tomatoes, two dozen bananas and one passion fruit."

With passion, Dr. Moore began flinging the contraband. She shouted at the ducking inspectors that they had no right to do this to someone passing

ROK Seats Assembly

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI)—The Republic of Korea seated its new bi-cameral National Assembly today in a brief ceremony in which delegates pledged themselves to avoid the excesses of the ousted Syngman Rhee regime.

A small crowd of demonstrators assembled outside the national capital during the ceremonies to protest the re-election of former leaders of Rhee's Liberal Party. No incidents were reported, however.

Airline officials promised to get a basket of fruit for her flight from San Francisco to Los Angeles, where she will catch a polar flight for home.

Hub To Hear 2 Requests By Chamber

The San Anselmo City Council will consider two requests from the chamber of commerce at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The chamber will ask for passage of an ordinance to prohibit stores running closeout sales from bringing in additional stock to sell under the guise that it is stock they had on hand.

It will also seek permission to place trash baskets on the streets. The San Anselmo Garbage Disposal Co. has offered to empty the baskets each day without charge.

The council also will consider a tentative plan for remodeling police and fire department offices and general offices. The new zoning ordinance also is scheduled to be introduced.

Meeting Postponed

A meeting of the Mill Valley School District board, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Thursday at 8 p.m. at the district office at 26 Miller Avenue, Supt. G. R. McConnell announced today.

Ike Receives Sendoff At Vacation End

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, given a rousing sendoff after a month's vacation at Newport, R.I., was back at his White House desk today.

His return to the capital last night was timed to the reconvening today of Congress to which he sent a special message outlining his views on needed legislation.

Tanned and apparently rested, Eisenhower and members of his family, including his four grandchildren, flew back by Air Force jet plane to nearby Andrews Air Force Base. There was no official greeting.

Foregoing his usual helicopter flight at the request of chamber of commerce there, Eisenhower traveled by cabin cruiser from his residence at Fort Adams to the Quonset Point Naval Air Station, where he boarded his plane.

His cruiser kept a leisurely pace for the 10-mile journey, staying close to the crowd-jammed piers, seawalls and beaches along the waterfront. The president sat alone in the stern of the cabin cruiser and waved to the thousands lined up to see him off.

Scores of pleasure boats trailed his craft and streams of water from fire hoses ashore added to the gala farewell.

Building Permits

Permits for $522,830 in new construction were issued during the last two weeks of July by the Marin County Building Inspection Department. Included in the permits were 22 for new dwellings and one for a $7,000 remodeling of the Tomales Presbyterian Church.

Russ Mystery Shipments To Cuba Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The magazine U.S. News and World Report said today Soviet ships have been delivering mysterious cargoes to Havana since June 28.

In a copyright article, it added that since June 18 certain areas of the interior, such as the large Zapata swamp on the south coast, have been put off limits.

The number of identified Soviet technicians who have reached Cuba through normal channels has doubled in the past six weeks, the article added, and at least 200 technicians and advisers known to be from the Soviet bloc are now in Cuba.

SPEAKS AT MARIN RECEPTION

California Vote Essential, Says Kennedy's Brother

California's vote is essential to win the presidency for John F. Kennedy, the candidate's brother, Ted Kennedy, declared yesterday during a Democratic reception at the Novato Community Clubhouse in honor of Rep. Clement W. Miller and Assembly candidate Everett Matzen.

Western campaign manager for his brother, the younger Kennedy said that California is one of two key areas in the election.

In an interview with radio station KTMM reporter Jerry Bennett, Kennedy said there would be added effort and a more vigorous campaign in California because it is "Vice President Richard M. Nixon's home state.

Kennedy said he was in California to explain some of his brother's ideas about the campaign and give an opportunity to people here to get a "direct line" to his brother.

Kennedy said he did not think the religious issue would have any bearing on the election. "People are interested in the basic issues, the important issues, not in where the candidates go to church," he declared.

He said his brother would start a fulltime campaign in September, taking him first to Hawaii and Alaska. The candidate hoped to be in California in September, he said.

Kennedy stressed the importance of registration. "We won't get a majority unless these people are going to be able to vote in the fall," he said. An extensive registration drive will be held, he said.

Kennedy predicted the campaign in California would be a "hotly contested race."

The Kennedy interview will be heard at 5:45 p.m. today on KTMM's "Sidewalk Reporter" program.

THE RACE IS SET . . . . THE TIME IS NOW!

A Message from the Republican County Central Committee of Marin County, California

The Philosopher Said:

"The Moment Of Power Resides In The Moment Of Action"

You may hold the firmest Republican convictions in the whole county, but if you do not ACT on them, your state of mind is as ineffectual for the benefit of your country, your party, or yourself as if you had no convictions at all. Your convictions are equally futile if you act too late.

Clearly your most vital and indispensable expression of power is the act of VOTING, but that action by itself is not enough. You must share your convictions with those many others, who, regardless of party affiliation, hold the same love of freedom, the same belief in self-reliance, and the same hopes for the country as you hold.

In the privacy of the booth, these people are free to vote their true convictions, but they must first see the momentous issue of the Free Man versus the Welfare State. They must get the message of Republicanism loud and clear.

To spread this message, some of your time, your energy, your dedication is vitally needed NOW. Here are some of the volunteer county organizations that are doing a great work, and would welcome your support:

Please remember you accomplish nothing until you ACT. Your priceless privileges as a free citizen are made manifest in the very freedom you have to choose between so many avenues of effective action. Whether it be through joining the volunteer organizations, or working with specific candidates, or doing precinct work, or contributing funds, the only inexcusable course for the free man is failure to act at all.

The 21-member Central Committee is the official elected Republican body in Marin County. Its primary duty is to oversee and organize affairs toward the election of Republican candidates for State and Federal offices, by raising money, by precinct organization, and by working closely with the volunteer groups. ## Jr. Museum Starts Campaign To Meet Needs Of Children

The Junior Museum of Marin, located at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael, is a non-profit educational corporation dedicated to increasing the appreciation and intelligent use of Marin County's resources and wildlife in particular, and the natural sciences in general.

In addition to the many displays of plants minerals the habitat Dioramas, and the constantly changing children's exhibits (which give the children a chance to share the results of their hobbies, particular in tests or class projects) there are the large number of live animals and reptiles, together with the Animal Loan Program (where children can borrow a rat or guinea pig complete with cage to take home for a week) provide children with the opportunity of observing first hand the creatures of Marin which they would otherwise only be able to read about.

In addition to the many activities and scheduled classroom visits during the school year, the Junior Museum provides a full summer program. It includes:

Chi Omega Animal Story Hour, 1-2, Tuesdays, instructor, Mrs. Robert Milmoie. Plant

Beginning Aug. 2nd: Introduction to Plants, 10-11:30, Tuesdays, instructor, Mrs. Margaret B. Best.

Each year school participation increases; during the first months of 1960 over 3500 school children were reached through scheduled classroom activities. For this reason one of the major needs of the Junior Museum is the addition of a wing on the east end of the building that will provide classroom and library facilities. To meet these needs the Junior Museum has launched an Expansion Campaign. They need help and contributions from each person in Marin.

Another major need is an extension of the program for older children. This can be accomplished through the provision of a good reference library on the natural sciences, and adequate convertible laboratory-classroom space for continued intensive study. The library is well on its way due to the efforts of Chi Omega Sorority which for the past two years has been donating books and money to purchase books for this purpose. The actual construction of the balcony library in the Auditorium will take place as soon as funds are available. Particularly needed are bookcases of all kinds, especially those with glass doors. If you have one to donate or know of any that are available call the Junior Museum between 9 and 5 Tuesday through Saturday. Books on nature will also be welcome.

Five years ago public spirited citizens conducted the public relations campaign which culminated in the founding of the present Museum. It is supported by membership dues from individuals Junior Museum Service League projects, a nominal donation from the County and contributions from the Kentfield, Mill Valley, Reed Union, Ross, San Anselmo, and Sausalito School Districts. The affairs of the Museum are governed by an elected Board of Directors consisting of 30 local professional and business men and women.

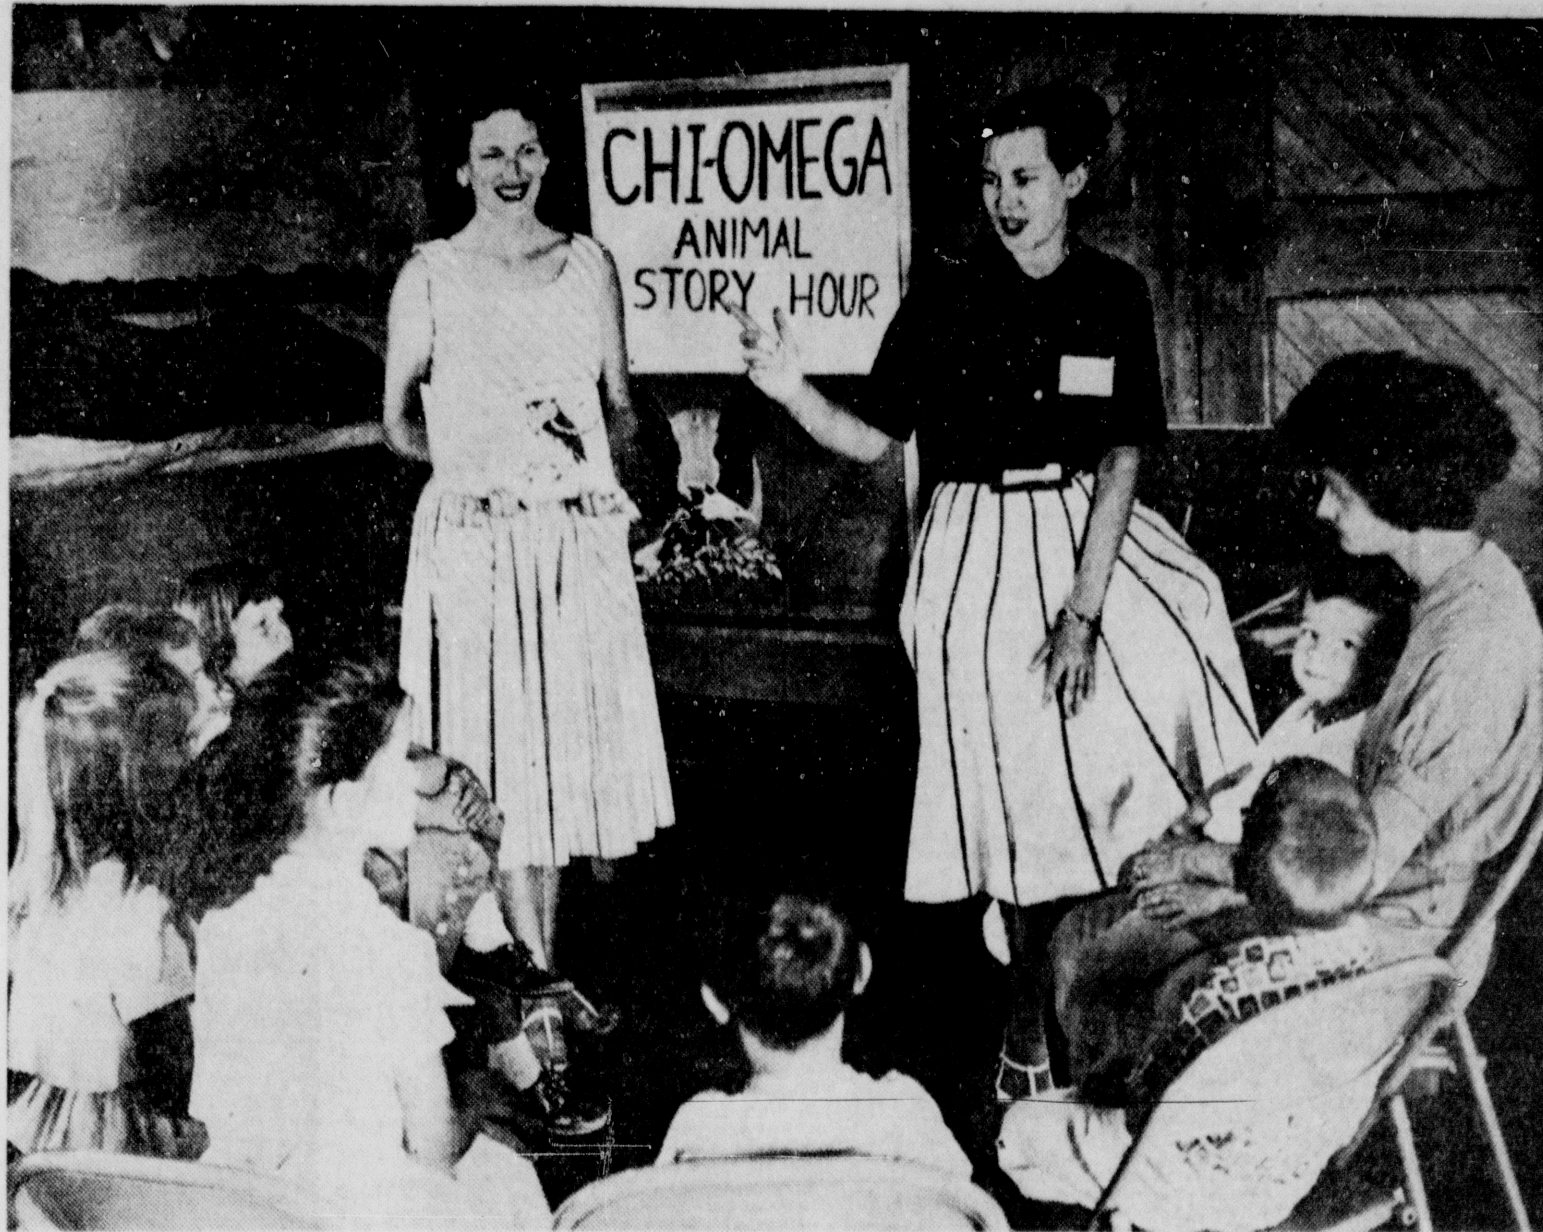

Bruce Barron is the current president and past presidents include: Harold Rooks, David Plant, Mozart Kaufman, Clyde Stevens, William McGregor and Al Nieri.

Those taking an active part in the Fund Raising Campaign are A. L. McCormick, general chairman, Mrs. G. A. Metcalfe, residential coordinator, William McGregor, non-soliciting chairman, David N. Plant, special gifts chairman, Dr. Robert Bramman, teams chairman.

Mrs. S. Thompson Walker is director of the Museum, ably assisted by Miss Diane Francis as curator of education. Walker is eminently qualified as teacher, organizer and administrator. He prepared himself for this position by taking graduate work in Museum techniques at the University of Iowa which has for many years led the nation in this academic field.

His grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Aldera, has been living in San Rafael since the death of her husband.

MRS. ROBERT S. MILMOE is the leader of the animal story hours, sponsored by Chi Omega Sorority at the Junior Museum. Assisting her are Mrs. Robert L. Rhoads Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Cates, seated. Avid

Finocchio-Rilla Rites Held At St. Hilary's On Saturday

Margaret Ann Rilla of Mill Valley and bridesmaids, Valley and Arnold Finocchio of Greenbrae exchanged vows Saturday, Aug. 6, in an 11 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

The church was decorated with white gladioli for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Pearce Donovan.

When Margaret, who is the daughter of Mrs. L. J. Rilla and the late Mr. Rilla of Mill Valley, walked down the aisle on the arm of her uncle, Edward Lane of Mill Valley, she was wearing a floor length gown of white satin.

It was fashioned with scoop neckline, short sleeves, and had two panels of brocade satin in front and back. Her floor length veil fell from a lace trimmed coronet of pearls, and she carried a prayerbook bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids with streamers.

Maid of honor was Carol Seif plaid, a white hat with beige veil, and completed her costume with dark beige shoes and bag.

She was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Dominican College and is employed by the Lynwood School of the San Jose School district.

The bridegroom was graduated from Santa Clara University and is employed by the Bank of America in San Rafael, where the young couple will live.

All were gowned in ballerina length frocks of silver blue satin designed with full skirts, three-quarter sleeves and scoop necklines, and their head-dresses were bows of the same satin as that in their dresses. Their flowers were tangerine carnations and yellow roses.

Robert Finocchio of Redding, Calif., served his brother as best man, and escorting guests to their seats were Edward King of San Francisco, Robert Ennis of Idaho and Leon Panetta of Carmel.

Mrs. Rilla attended her daughter's wedding in a green and white printed silk sheath, green hat and patent accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Among those present for the wedding were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Finocchio of Greenbrae. Mrs. Finocchio chose a blue satin dress with matching hat and accessories, and her corsage was of white roses.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rose Lane of Mill Valley and the sister of Mrs. Richard Melandy of Novato, Mrs. Harold Strauss of Mill Valley, and John, Michael, Terry, Rosemary, Ellen and Elizabeth Rilla, all of Mill Valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, and the bride's sister Ellen was in charge of the guestbook.

When the new Mrs. Finocchio left for a honeymoon at Carmel, she was wearing a three-piece suit of beige glen haven

Northgate Folly's Will Be Sept. 14

At a recent luncheon meeting held in her Ross home, Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the second annual Northgate Folly's, made plans with her committee for the elegant sale of new and next-to-new items to be held Sept. 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Co-chairmen of the Northgate Group money-raising event are Mrs. E. R. McWilliams, who will be in charge of pricing, and Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler, who will handle staffing and publicity.

Last year's sale will be remembered for its unusually beautiful evening gowns, art objects, high-style women's and men's clothes, teen-age buys, sporting equipment, and even a kitchen stove. This year, in addition to similar items, books have been added as well as a section called "Fantasia" which will feature an unusual silent auction.

"Fantasia" will be directed by Fred F. Enemark.

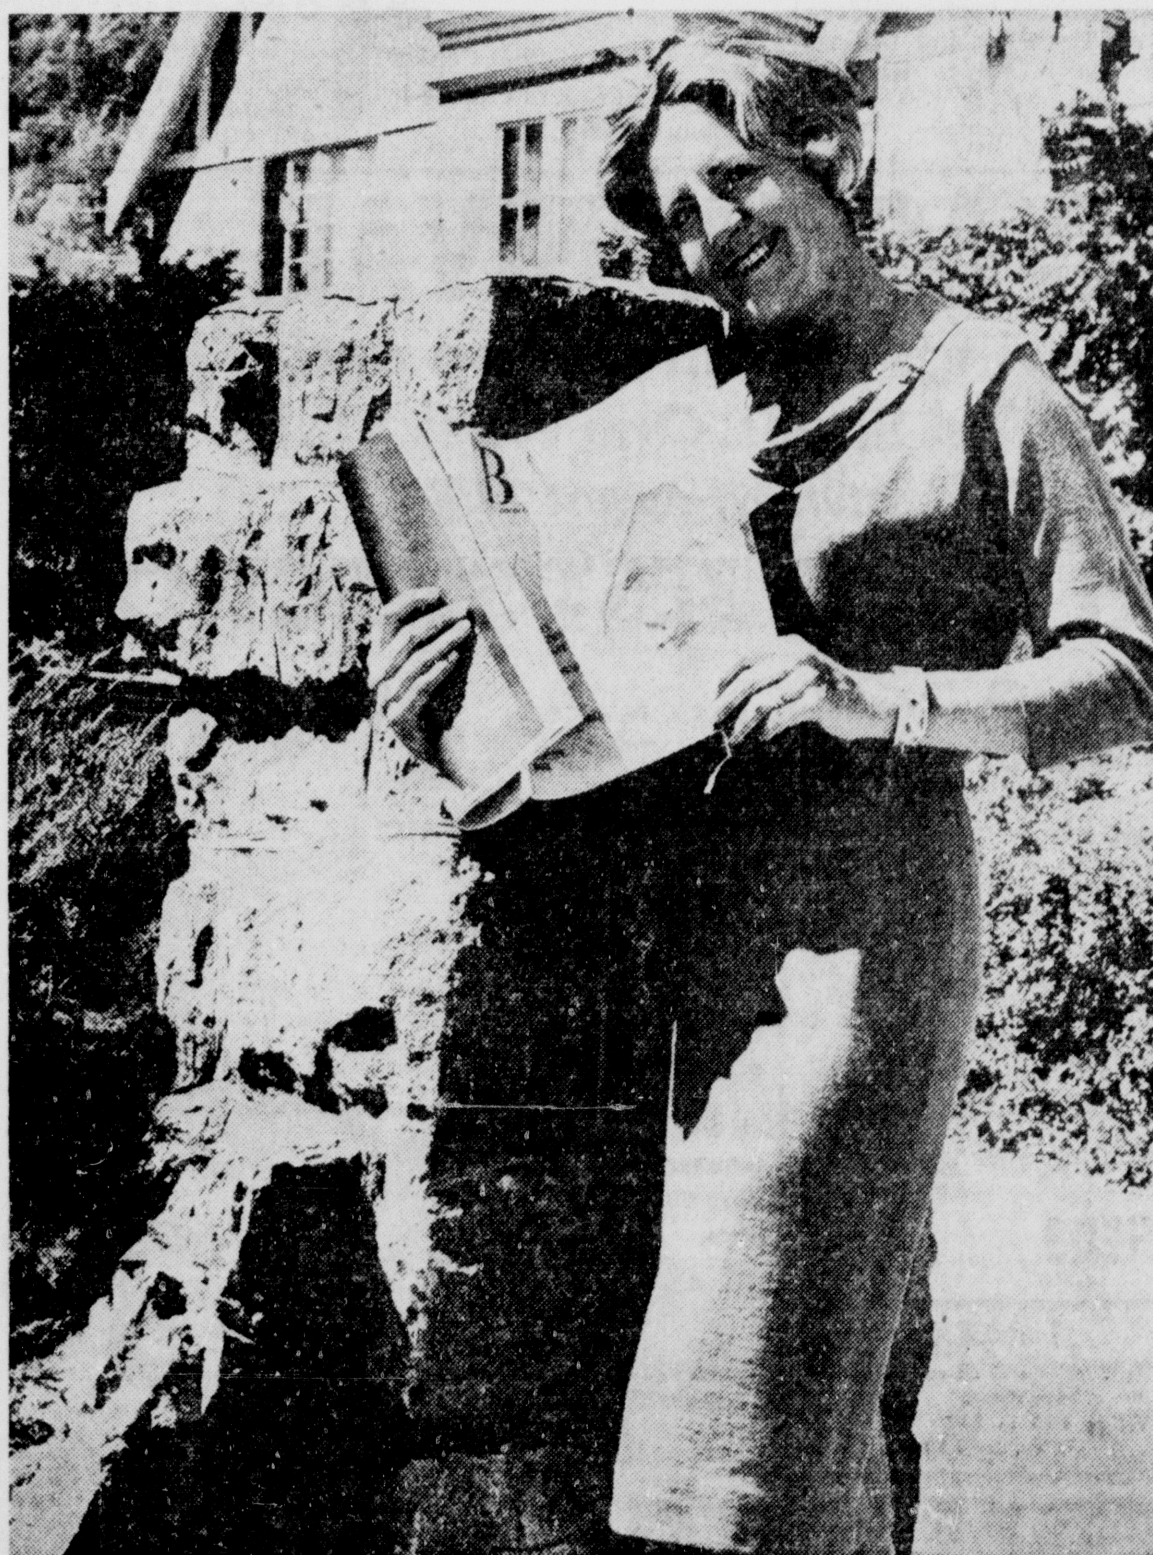

Members of Northgate, of the Art and Garden Center, and the public are asked to bring the elegant "folly" stowed away in closets, basements, garages or attics to Folly's Inn at the Laurel Grove entrance to the Northgate Building at the center. The storage facility will be staffed to receive merchandise on Tuesdays and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. On other days, donors may phone Mrs. Kirkpatrick or Mrs. Feidler who will arrange to be at the building.

Committee chairmen for the merchandise departments at the sale will be Mesdames Andrew Halley, Leroy Page, for the "Chanel-Carnegie" shop (women's clothing and accessories); Mesdames Grace Graham, Walter Boland, for the "Van Cleef & Afuls" (jewels and other ornaments); Mesdames John S. O'Neil, John C. Gilman, who will run the "Teen Age Heaven" (duds for sub-debs); Mesdames William G. Morrissey, Rolla B. Hess, who will manage the "Lily-Dashing" department (hats, bags, gloves, belts, scarves); Mesdames Walter F. Cozad, Robert Byard, Norman Paterson, in charge of "Beautiful Breakables" (china and glass); Mesdames George Leftwich, Harvie Freed for "Handsome Haberdashery" (clothing for males).

The "Evercrumble-Fish" department (hardware, sports equipment, house and garden furnishings, hobby items) will be run by Mesdames Leonard Breslin and William Cole. The "Worm Returns" section's chairmen are Mesdames Robert Cole, Frederick Allen and George Smith.

A chairman for "Cutie Customs" booth will be named and announced in the near future.

Business managers of the sale will be Mesdames Philip Nathan and Emil Pohli. The sale is staged by the Northgate Group as one of the organization's many projects put on during the year to raise funds to pay for new buildings at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

'CORRECTLY KORET' is Mrs. William Donohoe who will model Stephanie Koret's 1960 fall collection tomorrow at Fashion Focus Luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. The luncheon begins at 12:30 o'clock and the public is invited.

TWO MEMBERS OF the Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills, Mill Valley, from left, Mesdames William Maxwell Jr., and Kent O. Seymour, are busy working on a tote-type bag smock modeled by Mrs. Maxwell which will be offered for sale at the Guild's booth for the Annual Grape Festival on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Sunny Hills Redwood Guild Readying For Grape Festival

The Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills, Mill Valley, have a lot of new ideas up their sleeves this year. One of them is a cotton, hip-length smock of Oriental design; another is a tote-type bag to be made of various fabrics so that it can be worn for either casual or late-day wear; planter kits, and some unusual varieties of homemade chutneys.

Recently the group met at the home of Mrs. Kent O. Seymour, in Mill Valley, for a work session as the 61st Annual Grape Festival on Saturday, Oct. 1, is beginning to grow close.

The annual Grape Festival accounts for over 10 per cent of the annual operating budget of Sunny Hills, a non-sectarian home which cares for boys and girls from broken homes. The major portion of Sunny Hills' support comes from the San Francisco United Community Fund and the Marin United Fund, supplemented by fees from public agencies and parents who can contribute.

Officers of the Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills who are working hard to make their booth at the Grape Festival this year are Mrs. W. L. Maxwell, Jr., president; Mrs. Robert Potter, vice president; Mrs. George Turnbull, secretary; Mrs. Whitney Robbins, treasurer; and Mesdames Robert Potter and Eugene McGeorge, booth chairmen.

The Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills, although one of the newer Guilds, contributes substantially to the financial success of the annual fund raising event, which this year will be held again at the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

Blue Birds Day Camp Sessions End With A 'Job Well-Done'

The Gypsies are gone but not forgotten. The bright furnishings are stored away for another year. Day Camp sessions for the Blue Birds, the youngest girls in the Camp Fire program, have ended, but the glow of a "job well-done" still lingers.

A Gypsy theme was used this summer and was carried out very successfully by well trained counselors—for the most part, mothers of some of the girls—and aides—high school girls who enjoy working with young children.

Three sessions of eight days each were held. The first, at Phoenix Lake, found Mesdames Vincent Yoder, Donald De Mose, Russell Cane Jr., D. N. Pfeiffer, Virginia Wilcox, John Grau, E. C. Roberts, Stephen Hackett, Ben Godfrey Jr., Wm. J. MacPherson, and J. A. Ferro working on the program designed by the members of the Day Camp Committee, Mesdames Russell Rhoads, Vincent Yoder, William J. MacPherson, Harold Fulkerson, and Hartley Sater, chairman.

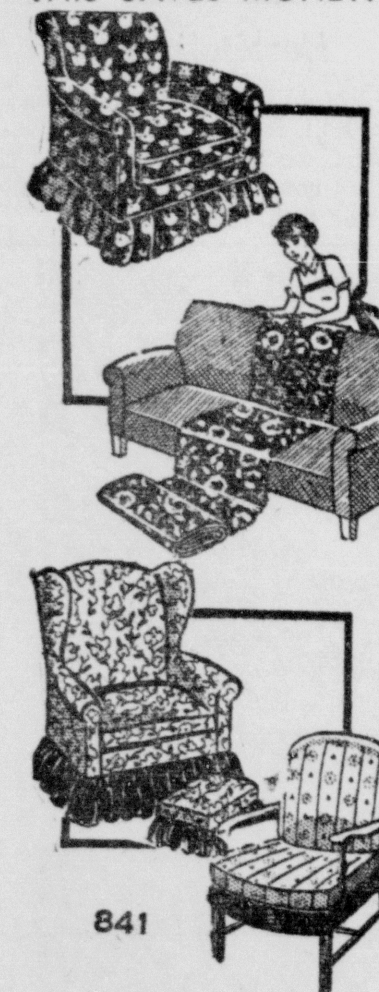

The special pets of the young girls were the Aides who were indispensable to the camp. Serving this session were: Lynn Keeler, Claudia Kendall, Cheryl Cook, Nancy Girvin, Virginia Slattery, Mary Sutherland, Claudia Keppel, Lynn Fulkerson, Mary Sue Philp, Natalie Gildroy, Debbie Adams, Lee Broomhead, Karen Brown, and Carol Gallivan.

The next session was held at Deer Park, Fairfax, where seventy-six girls "camped" under the guiding hands of Mesdames Russell Rhoads, R. D. Eggleton, W. H. Daring, Leonard Kralka, Vernon Gilstrap, Bernard Piambo, Lloyd N. Nicolaisen, R. L. Bunney, Richard Dodds, Barbara Memory and Miss Betty Ojeda. The assisting aides were Lynn Fulkerson, Cheryl Cook, Claudia Kendall, Sandy Babcock, Lee Broomhead, Joan Houston, Diane Forester, Jean Houston, Libbie Doucet, Susan

AT THE POOLSIDE of Mrs. Bryan R. McCarthy's Loch Lomond home and busy with plans for the annual Alpha Phi Alumnae summer party on Aug. 21 are Mrs. McCarthy, at left, Mrs. Otto H. Meyer, barbecue supper chairman, and at right, Mrs. Philip Cramp, general chairman.

Alpha Phi Alumnae Plan Summer Party

The enchanting poolside patio of the Loch Lomond home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan R. McCarthy at 12 Dorian Way, San Rafael, will provide the exquisite setting for the annual Alpha Phi Alumnae summer party, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 21. This event traditionally honors members' husbands and also Marin County collegiate Alpha Phis and their dates.

Members and their husbands or dates will gather at 2 o'clock for a lazy afternoon of swimming, sunning, and bridge. A barbecue supper will be served in the early evening under the direction of Mrs. Philip Cramp and Mrs. Otto H. Meyer, assisted by the Mesdames G. Edward French, Bink

Beckman and Hugh J. Downey. Mrs. Daniel F. Gould and her helpers, Mrs. Charles H. Curley, Mrs. Vernon C. Gustafson and Mrs. J. Edwin Hickerson will set an informal bevy of card tables around the pool with colorful silver and bordau cloths, the sorority's colors.

Ann Solinsky is contacting all collegiate members with a special invitation from the club. All alumnae members of Alpha Phi residing in Marin County are invited and urged to call Mrs. McCarthy for reservations before Aug. 18.

Entry Deadline Set For Junior Tennis Tourney

Entries for the second annual Marin Junior Hardcourt Tennis Tournament will be accepted until midnight tonight, according to Hal Wagner, tournament chairman.

The tournament, scheduled for Aug. 15-20 will be held at the Mill Valley Tennis Club. Boys and girls may apply to play in the following singles and doubles event: 11 year; 13 years; 15 years; and 18 year divisions. Wagner will accept entries by phone at the club or at home, and entrants will be notified by card of the time of their initial matches.

Jack Bloom, general chairman for this second annual event, invited club members to accept committee posts to work out housing, publicity and social details.

Social events, arranged by Mrs. George Pritzker, include a casserole supper on Wednesday, Aug. 17, and a "Lemonade Leap" on Friday evening, Aug. 19 for the junior tennis enthusiasts. Tickets for these events may be arranged for at check-in time.

The swimming pool will be available for entrants also.

Housing chairman Mrs. John Laurie is assigning homes for youngsters residing outside the immediate Bay Area. She requests any parents interested in offering hospitality to some of these juniors to call her.

Vacation Coincident For Drexlers

Vacation coincident of the most unlikely kind occurred during their current vacations according to a report from the families of Fred and Day Drexler, brothers, living in Mill Valley.

The Fred Drexlers left about two weeks ago heading north on a western tour, and last week the Day Drexlers left for New Mexico. The latter, deciding they wanted to see Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado, phoned for reservations only to be told that reservations had already been made under the name of Drexler.

Further discussion brought out the fact that the Fred Drexlers had made the same decision and also phoned for reservations.

And so both families are visiting Mesa Verde without having planned it that way.

Tam Club Plans Pioneer Day

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club's annual Pioneer Day will be held Sept. 24, president Midge Hamburg announced today.

A western dance and a miniature rhubarb show, under direction of Nick Pendleton, will be held at the club's hall in the evening. Money raised will go towards the building fund of a new hall.

Gallinas District Candidates Named

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will have four candidates running for two vacancies on the board in the Sept. 13 election.

Arnold Palmer Claims Bride In Los Angeles On Saturday

In a garden wedding on Saturday at 4:30 o'clock in Los Angeles, Patsy Ann Juda became the bride of Arnold M. Palmer of San Rafael.

Rabbi Alfred Wolf performed the ceremony in the garden covered with white canopies at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Juda of Los Angeles.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pincus of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of silk organza with the top in Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. The left side of the gown featured an embroidered panel of lace with seed pearls and a crushed rose was at the waistline. Her chapel train extended the skirt. A coronet of silk crushed Parisian roses held a French veil and she carried a full bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and white roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Neiger II, maid of honor, Barbara Abrams and bridesmaids, Madeline Nagei and Jean Samuels, wore matching gowns of white silk organza with shaded stripes in aqua. They had aqua cummerbunds with soft bows for back interest. They wore coronets of fresh flowers and carried white bouquets of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and white roses.

Robert Hartzell acted as best man. Ushers were James Neiger II, Tom Juda and Jack Clumbeck Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Juda wore a gown of yellow beige Alencon lace.

The mother of the bridegroom was gowned in green chiffon.

A cocktail reception and sit down dinner followed in the garden where the "White Flowers" theme was carried out in appointments.

The bride was graduated with high honors from Los Angeles High School and attended the University of California. Her sorority is Alpha Epsilon Phi. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Samuels and Mrs. Leon Juda all of San Francisco are her grandparents.

The benedict was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended the University of California, where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity. He was graduated from San Francisco State College. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Capel of San Rafael are his grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel and Lake Tahoe, the couple will reside in Los Angeles.

Candidate's Wife Is A Vital Factor

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Politicians totting up the vital factors in electing their man to the presidency linger over such things as party, platform, personality. If they're shrewd, they add the candidate's wife.

A charming woman, good-looking enough to attract men's interest, yet with the unassuming domesticity to win over the more critical feminine voters, is an asset not to be underestimated.

Now that women outnumber men at the polls, the potential first lady might seem an even more important consideration.

Women cast their ballots for a man, but they understand all about petticoat power in the privacy of the home. They've got it figured that after the shouting and the tumult dies, the leader who's larger than life goes home to become a human-sized father and a husband who listens respectfully to his wife.

In the almost-forgotten days before woman suffrage, human nature wasn't noticeably different—on any social level.

Even the meekest little wife who was scandalized by the bonnets the candidate's spouse wore, or by what she'd heard about her gay parties, could wheedle her voting mate to her unfriendly persuasion.

But what about the nominee's better half? Did she ever hit the campaign trail in behalf of his candidacy?

Back when women were ladies and left political issues to the menfolks—at least publicly—candidates' wives mostly stayed home, kept the roof patched over the children's heads and pondered with mingled delight and dread the prospect of living in the presidential mansion.

Some exerted influence in quiet ways. Abigail Adams never took to a soapbox, but she probably did more than anybody to get John Adams elected the second U.S. president. Considered by many a better statesman, she gave him the benefit of her keen intelligence in private.

Abigail was practical too, and not easily overawed. The first lady to live in the White House, she hung out her washing in its great unfinished audience room.

About eight decades later, Lucretia Garfield worked by the side of her husband, James, all that summer before he was elected. Telegraph linemen ran special wires to the shed that Garfield had made into an office. Their farm in Mentor, Ohio, became a little city of reporters, political leaders and well wishers. While Garfield gave out interviews and wrote letters, Lucretia fed, entertained and provided lodging for the troops of visitors.

Forty years after that, another Ohioan, Warren G. Harding, was elected president. His wife, Florence, who had made a financial success of his newspaper, also was credited widely with moving him into the White House.

Seniors Are To Represent Scout Council At Fair

Whether it's a trip to the State Fair, a major league ball game or a simple cook-out, Girl Scouts stay busy all summer long.

"Come to the Fair" is the slogan of Mariner Ship 132. The Senior Scouts will represent the Marin Girl Scout Council at the California State Fair on Sept. 1. Members of the ship will be found in the Marin County Exhibit giving three demonstrations under the direction of their skipper, Mrs. Leonard Schoff.

Bel Air School's Troop 81 spent an exciting afternoon at Candlestick Park when they watched the "Giants" beat the "Phillies." The Intermediate Scouts who will be sixth graders next term were accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Christian and Mrs. Clark Holmes. The Tiburon girls recently had a Father-Daughter dinner cook-out at Paradise Park with folk dancing afterwards. Their Court of Awards, when the Scouts received their Second Class Ranks, was followed by a swim party at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. Mrs. Christian was recently appointed as the new Tiburon Peninsula Girl Scout Neighborhood Chairman.

A final cookout at Phoenix Lake brought to a close the activities of Troop 238 until the fall. Entering the seventh grade next term at St. Anselm's in San Anselmo, the Intermediate Scouts have had a busy term, earning such varied badges as Child Care, Salt Water Life, Garden Flower, Insect, Mammal, Skating, Animal Raiser, and Cat and Dog Badges. The twelve members also earned Cook, Folk Dancer, and Group Musician Badges together.

While earning the Group Musician Badge, the girls joined nine other neighborhood troops to sing Christmas carols at local hospitals. They were also invited to sing at the Marin County Adult Girl Scout Annual Dinner in March. While earning the Folk Dancer Badge, the girls entertained the Senior Citizens of Marin, and taught folk dancing to St. Anselm's Troop 163. A cook-out at Bolinas and an overnight at Camp Taylor have served to prepare the girls for summer camping at Treasure Mountain Camp, the Marin Girl Scout camp in the Sierra. The term's activities have been under the leadership of Mesdames Manuel Dos Reis, Henry Laverty and David Hamm.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

Cordless Appliances On Drawing Boards

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Cordless home appliances are taking shape on the drawing boards of a number of caterers to the electrical gadget wants of housewives and their husbands.

Electric shavers with built-in power are already on sale along with rechargeable portable radios. Designers are talking of cordless vacuum cleaners, lamps, dictating machines, clocks and electric lawn mowers.

The latest devices, some as small as thumbtacks, use nickel cadmium batteries instead of the conventional ones. The new cells are rechargeable over and over again and guaranteed not to run down while not in use.

Salesmen for the new products will stress freedom from the annoyance of cords and the convenience of use where wall sockets aren't available.

But they'll have to overcome the resistance of the housewife to the higher price which the new batteries add to the gadgets.

Nickel cadmium battery sales are now running around 15 million dollars a year, but with most for industrial use as standby equipment rather than in household items. Makers of these batteries include Gould National Batteries, Willard and Exide batteries.

A Gould spokesman predicts that with the hoped-for expansion in the household and office fields, sales can rise to 75 million dollars by 1965.

Makers of plug-in type appliances question if inroads on electric cord devices will be that great.

Even at 75 million dollars the new batteries would be little threat to the conventional lead acid battery business, running around 625 million dollars a year.

For one thing, the nickel cadmium batteries would be much too expensive for use in autos. Present car batteries can be had for around $20. A nickel cadmium unit big enough for a car would cost between $300 and $325.

Small gadgets with small battery units offer a better field. Here's an example of how they work:

The Remington Rand cordless electric shaver is powered by two cadmium cells storing enough energy for 30 minutes use—some two or three weeks of quick shaving. When the battery runs down, the shaver is placed on a charging stand and plugged into an electrical wall socket, recharging in 24 hours. The makers say the cell can't be overcharged and are good for at least 15 years.

There's New Hope

For Crippled Mouths

CHICAGO (UPI)—There is new hope for adults whose mouths are crippled by crooked teeth, the American Dental Association reports.

"As a result of progress in orthodontics, the age limit at which treatment can successfully be undertaken has been altered," the ADA said. "Many orthodontists are finding that adult patients constitute a sizeable segment of their practice."

Cotton Pickin'

Machines Take Over

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—The cotton pickin' machines are taking over.

The Texas A&M College Extension Service says machine stripping and picking of cotton accounted for 44 per cent of the state's upland harvest in 1959, up from 35 per cent in 1958.

Education Board To Consider Sale Of School Bonds

The San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow night will consider sale of bonds to finance expansion of the new Terra Linda School, to include a second $750,000 academic building with library and a $155,000 swimming pool.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building at 215 Mission Avenue.

Also on the agenda is a report from Assistant County Counsel E. Warren McGuire on the rights and obligations of the high school district and the contractor in connection with occupancy of Terra Linda High School before the contract is completed.

Fairchild Talk Set

At Breakfast Meeting

Jack R. Yelverton will speak on "Reviews and Prospects of Fairchild Semiconductor Corporation in Marin, at tomorrow's 8 a.m. breakfast meeting of the Marin County Real Estate Board, Inc. at the King Cotton restaurant in San Rafael.

Yelverton is with the company's diode division. Bud Baar and Charles Rosenbaum of Maynard Redmond and Co., San Rafael, will act as co-chairman for the day.

Fair Employment Practices Urged

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Dr. Arnold M. Rose, professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota, advocates a Fair Employment Practices Law for older workers.

In a report to the 51st annual conference of the American Home Economics Association, the sociologist also said that non-discrimination toward older workers is becoming more necessary because of the increasing likelihood today that people will reach age 65 still physically fit.

Cloud-Seeding Offers No Water Solution

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's water director reported today that cloud-seeding apparently offers no solution to water shortages.

Harvey O. Banks, director of water resources, said a three-year study of cloud seeding in Santa Barbara brought no conclusive results.

He recommended that the state end its participation in the study, saying it probably would require many more years to develop concrete facts.

"Although the studies show there was some increase in rainfall during those storms in which clouds were seeded, we do not actually know whether the increase was a result of the seeding or some other factor," Banks said.

Problem Solvers Show Reactions

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cool, calm, collected people don't necessarily make the best problem-solvers, a psychologist at Michael Reese Medical Research Institute reports.

During research, Dr. Sidney J. Blatt found that the most efficient problem-solvers show marked physical reactions when given a challenging test to work out. Pulse pounds, breathing rate quickens and they may even perspire.

Children Taught Rewards System

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—"Children in our culture are taught not to think for themselves but to seek and be content with rewards and approval," says Dr. Harold H. Anderson.

The nation's system of rewards and punishments wastes one of our greatest natural resources, the creative power of its youth, the Michigan State University psychologist contends.

The good life is a full life, complete with the comforts and convenience of a full living standard. It is also a balanced life, in which the stimulation of earning your way in the world is sharpened by the relaxation of an enjoyable leisure time.

How did you learn about the labor-saving tools and comforts that surround your good life? Probably through advertising. What is more, you can probably afford them only because of the freedom of competition brought about by advertising.

Because it can advertise, a company can offer improved products or better prices to anyone in the nation, and quickly obtain the advantages of mass production. Because they can advertise, companies in America have provided the good life for practically everybody. Can any other nation say as much?

Fathers Who Fail Their Sons Are Big Cause Of Delinquency

I checked the home of 200 delinquent boys. Can you guess what I found?

The boys all had bad dads. There wasn't a really good father in the bunch.

Some of the dads were weaklings; they gave no orders, exerted no leadership. Some were far too strict; they yelled at their sons day and night. They beat their kids and kicked them around. Some were in prison. Some had deserted their families.

I'm sure that inadequate fathering is one of the main causes of juvenile delinquency.

Fathers, you matter more to your sons than you realize. You are their ideal. You're the source of their strength and their self-control. They need you. Probably you spend very little time with your boys. Probably you're too busy, as most fathers are. Your sons are the losers.

Will you change? What I suggest is especially important if you have boys under 12. Rearrange your weekly schedule. Spend Saturdays with your sons. Do things they'll enjoy. Do they like ball games? Go together. Do they like to hike in the country or fish or swim? Be guided by their wishes.

Try not to be bossy. Give orders only when you must. Then be clear about what you want. If you play games together be sure the competition is fair. Your sons should win once in a while. You don't need to impress them. They already know you're a big shot. When you lose, be a good sport.

Will you enjoy being with your boys? You'll find they're wonderful kids. Soon you'll look forward to your days together.

Try it and see.

Monument In Japan Honors Seven Top War Criminals

TOKYO (UPI)—They've built a monument to General Tojo and six other top Japanese war criminals who were hanged.

It's called the "seven martyrs" monument, and will be unveiled in Aichi Prefecture in central Japan with elaborate ceremonies on Aug. 15.

Just completed, the monument stands on the summit of Mount Mitsune in Mikawa National Park and faces in the direction of the United States. It was built at a cost of about $44,500, which was collected through donations.

An inscription on the tall granite monument reads:

"These martyrs were executed by an ex-post facto law after the nation was compelled to surrender when the United States used the atomic bombs and when the Soviet Union broke its non-aggression pact. Let us cast our eyes far in the direction of the Pacific and probe who was responsible for the war."

Tojo's widow and other widows of war criminals will attend the unveiling ceremony.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT
Sports Glasses

● Bathroom Problem
● Oxygen Pep
● Coronary Insufficiency

Q. I have seen advertisements in sports magazines for yellow-tinted glasses that are supposed to improve the hunter's sight, especially on cloudy or overcast days. Are such glasses helpful?

A. Yes, they do help. Yellow-tinted glasses transmit yellow light rays unchanged, but cut down the short-wave rays of blue and green. When used on cloudy or overcast days, yellow rays seen through the glasses become relatively brighter than the blue or green. As a result, yellowish animals can be seen more distinctly by hunters who wear such glasses.

Q. This is not a very nice subject, but what is the best way to sterilize toilet seats?

A. The most practical way is by use of soap and water and a suitable antiseptic solution.

Q. What is the medical opinion regarding use of oxygen by athletes?

A. There is little or no scientific evidence that use of pure oxygen by athletes is helpful. Most authorities disapprove of this practice because the hoped-for boost in energy tends to make the athlete overexert himself. Athletes performing at high elevations might conceivably get a temporary "lift" from breathing pure oxygen, but even this is debatable.

Q. Please explain coronary insufficiency. Is such a condition dangerous? Can it turn into cancer?

A. The heart muscle is nourished by special blood vessels called coronary arteries. If one of these vessels becomes partially or completely blocked or goes into spasm the amount of blood that can get through the artery is lessened. As a result the coronary artery delivers an insufficient amount of blood to the heart itself. Hence the expression, coronary insufficiency. The degree of danger depends, of course, on the extent to which the blood flow is diminished. There is no relationship between coronary insufficiency (which involves mechanical impediment of blood flow to the heart itself) and cancer (which is a disease process).

When submitting questions, readers are requested NOT to enclose self-addressed envelopes. Questions are incorporated in by athletes is helpful. Most au-

Work Starts Soon On First 180 Homes In Racquet Club Estates

Work will start this month on the first of 180 homes in the Rafael Racquet Club Estates subdivision above Sun Valley surrounding the proposed clubhouse area. The first stage of completion is expected before Oct. 15. Homes in the $24,000 to $30,000 bracket will be offered.

Rafael Racquet Club Estates, Inc., and Rafael Racquet Club, Inc., are projects of John J. Farrar of Harbour Place, Inc., San Rafael. William Rexford Batey of Key Marin Realty and A. Harold Wagner, Mill Valley tennis instructor. Construction has already begun on the clubhouse, six tennis courts and a collegiate-size swimming pool.

The Racquet Club, a non-profit organization, will be operated by its members and applications are now being processed. There have been 50 memberships set aside for the Racquet Club Estates.

ADRIAN KLAVER, former San Francisco art gallery owner, is displaying paintings from Holland, Italy, Denmark and France at 1246 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Subjects are landscapes, seascapes, Paris street scenes and clowns.

Occupancy of the premises is indefinite—Klaver hopes to arouse sufficient interest in the paintings to make the display a permanent Marin business. He lives in San Francisco; is the father-in-law of the former Mary Howe of 11 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael.

E. DOUG ROBERTS of Marin Builders Exchange, who attended the three-day meeting of the California State Builders Exchange, Ltd., in Monterey at the end of July, says that the highlight of the conference was presentation of an insurance dividend check of $145,504.17 to members by the California State Compensation Insurance Fund.

The award was made as a result of exceptional safety records established by the organization—the first time in its 40-year history that it received a 46 per cent dividend.

AUTOMOBILES: Chevrolet and Ford are expected to add to their compact line this fall with trucks and vans only a foot or so longer than comparable Volkswagen models... Cadillac's only concession to the compact trend is a four-passenger sports model to be introduced next year. The similarity ends there—it may be smaller inside but will still be large outside.

BETTER SCORE IN THE SECOND HALF: Leading department store executives predict that the last six months of this year will top the same period of 1959 in retail sales by 2 to 5 per cent. Among other forecasts made

Flood Control Zone Question Due Board

Petitioners for formation of Flood Control Zone No. 5 at Stinson Beach, and those who subsequently protested, will have another chance to be heard at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow before the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

That could well be the last chance, from indications when the matter of schedule a month ago and nobody turned up on either side.

The original petition for formation of the zone reached Supervisor Vera Schultz last spring and she promptly entered the matter on the board agenda, only to discover that substantial opposition was developing. So time was given to give both sides their opportunity.

The board has scheduled for 2 p.m. its delayed hearing on the proposed county excavation ordinance. At 3 p.m. another delayed ordinance, to adopt the 1959 National Electrical Code, is set with prospects of comment by building inspector Otto Meyer.

Corgi A Champ

Rover Run Top Priority, a Pembroke Welsh Corgi owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simmonds of 23 Meadow Drive, San Rafael, recently was awarded the final points necessary to complete his American Kennel Club championship at the Santa Barbara Kennel Club show. He was judged best local working dog in show at the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show July 3.

LAW IN ACTION

You Can't Sue Seller For 'Puffing' Product

(This column, prepared by California attorneys so you may know more about our laws, appears regularly in the Independent Journal.)

You see much of human nature shining through our laws. "Puffing" is a case in point.

Your salesman may get carried away and claim too much for his product. Sometimes you can force him to make good on his claims, or give your money back.

But not if he was merely "puffing." Puffing is not true warranty.

Suppose a salesman claims that if you buy his car—whammy: The girls will come running for dates.

That is puffing. An opinion at best. Anyone should know better than to believe it. Anyhow, no court is likely to force the salesman to make good his claim.

But suppose the salesman claims his car is new or that nobody else in town could get it. And suppose you found it was used and you could buy others like it anywhere.

That's not puffing but a "warranty." And you can get your money back. But you couldn't make him deliver the dates with the girls.

Warranties are either expressed (written or spoken) or implied in the way you act.

Suppose as a seller you claim that an article—say a television set or a car—is in good working order when it isn't. Then you must make good or take the item back and return your customer's money.

You do not put implied warranties into words; by the way you act, you make someone think you rely upon certain things as facts when they are not so.

For instance: If a man offers to sell you a diamond ring, you have a right to think that he owns and has a right to sell the ring.

So you buy it, but the jewelry store comes and takes it away from you. The man didn't own the ring after all. Then, you can sue the man.

Since you may have a hard time deciding whether a salesman is puffing or warranting an article, just ask him to write down his claims. He'll most likely stall if he's puffing.

East San Rafael Zoning Recommendations Due

What's in store for east San Rafael properties?

The answer to that perplexing question—which has been tossed back and forth since June, 1959—may be presented at the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

City Planner Don Newmark will make his zoning recommendations for the entire area bordered by Francisco Boulevard, the canal and the bay. Most of the land is currently zoned industrial.

Two public hearings are set for the meeting. Both will concern rezoning from single family to duplex residential.

They include four properties on Reservoir Road, one on Mira Mar Avenue and three on Woods Street.

Subdivision maps being submitted for commissioners' approval include the 30-lot Dominican Heights Unit 2 fronting on Glen Park Avenue; Glenwood Unit 4, 73 lots, on San Pedro Road adjacent to Glenwood 2, and 50 lots of the Rafael Racquet Club Estates Unit 2 off Fifth Avenue at the city's western boundary.

A request by W. C. Garvie to build an all-steel boat repair shop at the foot of Bay Street between Francisco Boulevard and the canal will also be considered.

Architectural approval is sought for a proposed candle-building plant at Dubois Street between the railroad tracks and concrete tilt-up; Dominic's Restaurant, which will include berthing facilities for boats, between Francisco Boulevard and the canal near the turning basin; a new 28-unit apartment house on Canal Street between Medway Road and Hoag Street, and a Montgomery Ward warehouse on the east side of Tiburon Street across from Alpha Distributing Co.

Freeway Beams To Be Installed On Highway 101

Concrete bridge beams for the Manuel Freitas Parkway overcrossing from Terra Linda on Highway 101 north of San Rafael will be erected during the early morning hours Wednesday.

The overcrossing is part of the $1,250,000 freeway project from the northern city limits of San Rafael to Lucas Valley Road.

The beams will be placed between 1 and 5 a.m. when traffic volume is lowest. As operations begin on one side of the highway, traffic will be shifted to the opposite lanes for a short distance around the working area.

The same period next Thursday and Friday will be required to complete erection of the beams, it is expected.

The city of New Orleans was founded on its present site in 1718 by a French captain named Jean de Bienville, who was born in Canada.

Report Planned On Feasibility Of Gate Span Transit

A report on feasibility of rapid transit on the Golden Gate Bridge will be made Thursday to directors of the San Francisco Bay Area Transit District.

C. H. Gronquist, partner of D. B. Steinman, consulting engineer, will report on progress made by engineering consultants to determine feasibility of rapid transit on the bridge.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in room 985 of the Flood Building, San Francisco. It will follow a 10 a.m. meeting which is to be a continuation of last Thursday's special meeting.

Which woman is a PG&E owner?

Probably both of them are... because PG&E is owned by thousands and thousands of men and women from all walks of life. No one of them owns as much as one-tenth of 1% of the Company. And whether you're one of our 226,000 shareholders or not, you have a stake in PG&E ownership if you have an insurance policy, or participate in a pension plan, or own shares in a mutual fund. PG&E securities are held by such institutional investors as these. Thus directly or indirectly nearly everybody is an owner of PG&E... and probably you are too!
